Confirmation must be provided that the female has been vet tested for brucellosis and be of good health, and of the proper weight (minimum 5.5 pounds).

The $600 fee for this mating is due and payable after the first successful breeding (resulting in a tie). The $600 fee allows for two breeding attempts during the same cycle. The second attempt will be no sooner than 48 hours after the first. If no pregnancy results, a complimentary return service will be given to the same female on her next heat cycle. The same stud will be used, unless he is no longer available. If the original stud is unavailable, another stud will be provided.

If a viable litter is not delivered, Chocolate Bark Kennel needs to be notified. Notification that exceeds 73 days after first breeding disqualifies for return service. One puppy whelped alive constitutes a "viable" litter. Cash refunds will not be given for initial breeding or for return service if a viable litter is not delivered.
