My name is Vice Admiral Michelle C. Skubic and I am a two-star general in the United States Navy. On July 24, I became the director of the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA). Within the agency, the DLA Office of Small Business Programs provides information and support to assist businesses in doing business with the DLA, an agency under the U.S. Department of Defense. I have enjoyed watching your videos. It is my pleasure to present this certificate in advance of the plaque you are soon to receive from YouTube.

This certificate of achievement is in recognition of your hard work and commendable efforts in making entertaining videos while often contending with bad luck and misfortune. Ethan, we want YOU to DREAM BIG. YouTube offers six primary ways for you to start a small business and earn money. Your large fan base can help make that possible. We have enclosed information to help you become familiar with the programs that could be available to you. There are also avenues outside of YouTube that can help to take your channel to the next level. We encourage you to explore these possibilities and see how they may align with your interest and career goals.
