Course Description:

This course focuses on the history and theology of the Christian church through the first five centuries. Using primary and secondary sources, students will reflect on the key individuals, events, and the expression of the Christian faith during this distinct period.

Course Overview:

This course treks through 600 years of the early church with attention to both its theological development and in the practice of Christian life. Together, we will encounter a variety of intriguing individuals and engage in discussing critical theological issues. We will also focus on particular themes and individuals so that students can become more closely acquainted with the world and faith of the early architects of the Christian heritage. While there is a vast amount of material to cover during our brief time together, be encouraged--the writings you encounter are worth keeping in your personal library for reading and reflection beyond the end of class. Understanding your own faith and applying the insights of early Christian leaders can transform your life and ministry.

Course Objectives:

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Understand and explain the doctrine of the Trinity, and the historical debates in the early church around the person and nature of Jesus of Nazareth.
- Understand and explain a doctrine of salvation in light of the controversies of the early church.
- Understand the history and significance of the creeds and ecumenical councils.
- Apply historical theology in pastoral ministry.

Required Course Texts:

Justo Gonzalez, The Story of Christianity, vol. 1 (HarperCollins, revised, 2010)

Roberta Bondi, To Pray and to Love: Conversations on Prayer with the Early Church (Fortress Press, 1991)

Required Reference Book

Henry Bettenson and Chris Maunder, eds., Documents of the Christian Church, 4th ed. (Oxford University Press, 2011)

Recommended Course Texts:

Elizabeth Livingston, The Concise Oxford Dictionary of the Church, 3rd ed. (Oxford University Press, 2013)

Other materials distributed in class.

Course Expectations:

Your success in this course depends upon your effort in the course. Your attendance and active, engaged participation in class discussion is required. This means that you should come to class having completed the assigned reading materials, and ready to share your insights and analysis with the professors and your co-learners. Class participation counts for 15% of your final grade. Please note that all written assignments should be emailed to the professors at their respective emails on the dates and times outlined in each assignment. Again, Dr. Jaynes's email address is: JJaynes@mtso.edu. Dr. Beulah's email address is: tbeulah@mtso.edu.

Assignments:

1. Pre-Class writing assignment: Write a 2-3 page response to Roberta Bondi's, To Pray and to Love. This paper should answer the following questions in 3-4 sentences:
 - If someone saw you reading this book at a coffee shop and asked you what the book was about, what would you tell them?
 - What sources does Bondi use to provide insights into the prayer lives of members of the early church? What is the significance of these materials?
 - What is the point of the illustration used by Dorotheos of Gaza in Bondi's book? How does Bondi use the concept throughout her book?
 - Numerous references are made to the teachings of the various Desert Abbas and Ammas. Select one of these that you found particularly significant or helpful to you and explain their impact on you.

- How will your prayer life be different as a result of reading and reflecting on this book.

Due: Friday, September 27 by the start of class. This assignment counts for 30% of your final grade. This assignment should be emailed to Dr. Jeff Jaynes.

2. Biographical Reflection: Select one of the persons we have studied in this class and develop a sermon or an adult bible study based upon that individual. Presenting on the life and work of early Christian leaders offers one of the most effective tools for teaching history to your congregation. The reflection should include biographical elements of your person's life, faith experience, and contributions to early Christianity. The reflection should include references of primary sources, for example, letters, writings, sermons, prayers, etc. from your selected person (the Bettenson text will be useful here). Your sermon or bible study outline should be 5-6 pages. You can pick from the following individuals or you are free to select someone else:

- Perpetua of Carthage
- Justin Martyr
- Athanasius
- Bishop Irenaeus
- Macrina
- Tertullian
- Cyprian of Carthage
- Emperor Constantine
- Benedict of Nursia or Scholastica
- Arius
- John Chrysostom
- Anthony of the Desert
- Augustine of Hippo
- Origen

Due: Friday, November 1 by 12:00pm. This assignment counts for 30% of your final grade. This email should be emailed to Dr. Beulah.

3. In-Class Theological Reflection: On the last day of class, you will provide a written response to the class materials and class discussion. This assignment will be open book and open notes, but it is an individual – not a group – assignment. This assignment will ask you to cover some significant theme, event, or leader we have studied in class. This assignment counts for 25% of your final grade and will be submitted to Dr. Beulah in class.

A Note on Writing and Promptness: Please write clear and effective prose. Be mindful of spelling and grammatical issues. Also, be mindful to turn your assignments in on time. If a situation arises that will cause you to complete an assignment late, please alert the professor before the due date. Failure to do so will incur a late penalty.
