

NOW IS THE TIME

COLLECTIVE
..... 1776

As a full-service strategic communications firm, we are focused on bringing a unique human-centric approach to the conversation between industry and DoD.

Our services span from developing communication strategies and marketing programs to executing awareness campaigns and high-powered events.

The government is looking for your solution.

There is a sense of urgency within the government to discover, acquire, and adopt new technologies for the benefit of the warfighter. Buyers are on the hunt for solution providers.

Marketing, storytelling, and frequent communications increase your chance of being found and ensure your company remains relevant in the government marketplace.

Collective 1776 offers the services and support needed to help your company capture and retain the attention of your government buyers and end-users.

Now is the time to evaluate and elevate your communications strategy and marketing efforts to make your solution visible. Because national security can't wait.
