All you will see is a girl you once knew Al - though she's dressed up to the nines at six - es and sev - ens with you.

The first system of the musical score consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is in a key with four flats (B-flat major or D-flat minor) and a 3/4 time signature. It features a melody with eighth and quarter notes, including two triplet markings over the words 'six - es' and 'sev - ens'. The piano accompaniment has a treble and bass staff, with the right hand playing a rhythmic pattern of eighth and quarter notes, and the left hand playing a steady bass line of half notes.

2. I had to let it hap - pen, I had to change; Could-n't

The second system continues the musical score. The vocal line begins with a rest followed by a melody of eighth and quarter notes. The piano accompaniment features a treble staff with chords and a bass staff with a steady half-note bass line.

The third system of the musical score shows the vocal line with a triplet marking over the first three notes of the phrase 'stay all my life'. The piano accompaniment continues with chords in the treble and a steady bass line in the bass.

The fourth system concludes the musical score. The vocal line features a triplet marking over the first three notes of the phrase 'Run-ning a - round'. The piano accompaniment maintains the same chordal and bass line structure as the previous systems.

Repeat til Fade

The image displays a musical score for the song "The Sound of Silence" by Simon & Garfunkel. The score is arranged for three parts: Strings (Strs), Brass, and Piano (Piano). The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 4/4.

Strings (Strs): The string part is written in a single staff. It begins with a repeat sign and a first ending bracket. The melody consists of eighth and quarter notes, with some measures containing rests. The first ending leads back to the beginning of the section.

Brass: The brass part is written in a single staff. It features a melody of eighth and quarter notes, with some measures containing rests. The first ending leads back to the beginning of the section.

Piano (Piano): The piano part is written in two staves (treble and bass clef). The right hand plays a melody of eighth and quarter notes, with some measures containing rests. The left hand plays a bass line of eighth and quarter notes, with some measures containing rests. The first ending leads back to the beginning of the section.

The score is divided into two systems. The first system contains the first two measures of the music. The second system contains the next two measures. The first ending bracket spans the first two measures of each system, leading back to the beginning of the section.
