INDIANAPOLIS – Delegates to the National Federation of Republican Women (NFRW) 40th Biennial Convention unanimously elected Ann Schockett of Woodmere, New York, to serve as president for 2020-2021. The election took place Sept. 28.

Schockett, whose term begins Jan. 1, is serving as NFRW 4th vice president for the 2018-2019 biennium and as director of NFRW Region 5. She is an NFRW Capitol Regent, adviser to the NFRW Campaign Committee and the Public Relations Committee, and host of the “First Tuesday” national educational call in series. She will succeed NFRW President Jody Rushton of Plano, Texas, who is serving as NFRW president during the 2018-2019 biennium.

Previously, Schockett served on the NFRW Executive Committee as member-at-large and as president of the New York State Federation of Republican Women.

A proud New Yorker dedicated to empowering women to fulfill leadership roles, Schockett's 40 years of public service began when she was elected New York's youngest Republican State Committeeperson in state history. She has headed and advised in 42 campaigns, has overseen state GOP fundraising efforts and special events, and has worked with government and non-profit entities on all levels. She has received multiple awards for her work, including "Executive GOP Leader of the Year" and "Republican Woman of Year."

Schockett is an award-winning businesswoman turned consultant who advises in areas such as public relations, campaigns, multi-media and business performance. With a deep commitment to country, community and faith, she is a founding Board member of Save the Persecuted Christians, serves on the Board of Regents for the Center for Security Policy, and will be a delegate to the World Zionist Congress. Schockett and fiancé, Peter Matuza, between them have five children and five grandchildren. "As we enter one of the most crucial and exciting eras in the history of our nation, the newly-elected Executive Committee of the National Federation of Republican Women stands ready to meet all challenges," Schockett said. "We are proud to honor and build upon our organization's shining legacy of empowering Republican women to excel and lead. Side by side with our dedicated membership across America, we are united as one strong team moving forward together to help ensure a bright future for our communities, states and nation."

NFRW officers elected on Sept. 28 are:

PRESIDENT: Ann Schockett, New York

1ST VICE PRESIDENT: Eileen Sobjack, Washington

2ND VICE PRESIDENT: Julie Harris, Arkansas

3RD VICE PRESIDENT: Frances Taylor, Alabama

4TH VICE PRESIDENT: Martha Jenkins, North Carolina

SECRETARY: Vanessa LaFranco, New Jersey

TREASURER: Michelle Buckwalter-Schurman, Illinois

Three members-at-large to the Executive Committee will be elected by the NFRW Board of Directors on Sept. 29.

"The women of the NFRW join me in congratulating Ann and the incoming administration," Rushton said. "We have an accomplished and dedicated team in place to lead us into the 2020 elections, and we are grateful for their commitment and their vision for building future successes for our organization." Founded in 1938, the National Federation of Republican Women is the largest and most influential Republican women's group in the nation, proudly representing the party that first made it possible for women to vote in the U.S. The NFRW works to increase the effectiveness and relevance of women in the cause of good government. Our mission remains to recruit and elect Republican candidates, promote the principles of the Republican Party, educate the public, and inform the media.

BROWN COUNTY AREA REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Brown Country Area Republican Women are on the move and enjoying our club meetings. We've had Catherine Barranco, Sandye Kading, Lana Greenfield and Linda Schauer as speakers, and we also had our Republican Mayor candidate Travis Schaunaman give a campaign update along with Josh Rife who ran for Aberdeen city council.

In June we had a special meeting where Heidi Swanhorst spoke to our club about her experience growing up in Nazi Germany under the Hitler regime.

BCARW has 35 members and 8 associate members.

BCARW has started Caring for America Project taking baked goods to first responders. We took baked goods in August to the Aberdeen Police Department and in September to the Brown County Sheriff's Office.

In August BCARW worked at the Brown County Republican's fair booth. We as a club also took care of making sure the Expo Building tables located by the BCR booth were kept clean during the fair. It was a way to help and show support for our fair. I was proud of our ladies being so willing to go beyond the call of duty!

In September we had Kristie Fiegen as our speaker and she spoke on leadership. Many members said how they took her talk to heart and were so thankful to have her as our guest.

Jennifer Boerger and Heidi Engelhart attended the NFRW Biannual convention in Indianapolis, September 27th through the 29th. Both attended a leadership seminar on Friday afternoon and general sessions on Saturday and Sunday. There were many great speakers and it was a wonderful learning experience.

National Federation of Republican Women Recognizes Local Club for Achievement

Award Bestowed During Biennial Convention

INDIANAPOLIS Beadle County and Pennington County won the national Diamond Award and Codington County won the national Silver Award for Achievement during the National Federation of Republican Women (NFRW) 40th Biennial Convention held Sept. 27-29 in Indianapolis. More than 400 awards were given to clubs which demonstrated excellence in several key areas.

The NFRW Achievement Awards program is designed to enhance teamwork among members of each club, said NFRW Achievement Awards Chair Linda Smith of Kansas. Using the Achievement Awards worksheet as a guide for planning club activities produces a well-balanced club program. It establishes standards of performance for membership development, campaign activities, community relations, leadership development, programs and club functions.

"We are very pleased that one-third of our clubs, representing 40 states, earned an NFRW Achievement Award this biennium," Smith said. "It is the culmination of two years of diligent planning and hard work on the part of these club members, and we are proud to honor their efforts."

Founded in 1938, the National Federation of Republican Women is the largest and most influential Republican women's group in the nation, proudly representing the party that first made it possible for women to vote in the U.S. The NFRW works to increase the effectiveness and relevance of women in the cause of good government. CHARLES MIX COUNTY REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Elaine Veurink and Lois Van Dusseldorp, from Charles Mix Republican women, present two posters with the title "In God We Trust" to Jeremy Boer to be displayed at Dakota Christian School. In March Governor Kristi Noem signed a law that required the message to be displayed in South Dakota schools. We are also working on a new slate of officers for the coming year. We are making a plan on how to watch for people who need to register and register again because of change of addresses or status. (getting married) We, along with our county officers, will be helping our county auditor with names of those who could be precinct workers for the primary and general elections.

MEADE COUNTY REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Meade County Republican Women have a goal of keeping our boots on the ground this summer starting with sponsoring a teenage Republican from our county, Max Bartlett, to attend TARS Camp. It was his first camp and he is now our District 2 Representative. Go Max!

In the month of August, several of our Meade County Women volunteered at the Central States Fair in Rapid City manning the Pennington County Republican Booth, talking to people, and registering people to vote. Since we don't have a regular August meeting because of the Sturgis Bike Rally going on at the same time, Lorie Hausmann volunteered to host something at her beautiful home. We called it our Chat N Cheese and invited people for food, fellowship, and updates from some of the great leaders from our club. They were Beka Zerst, Lana Anderson, Lisa Sheiffer, and Lt. Governor, Larry Rhoden. All of these ladies are members and Larry is an associate member. Lorie and her husband were wonderful hosts and everyone enjoyed the event.
