A Word from the Editor

WELCOME TO OUR DECEMBER EDITION OF THE

About MAGAZINE.

There's something magical about December in the Bay & Basin. The days seem to sparkle a little brighter, the beaches are buzzing, and there's that familiar hum of summer energy in the air.

It's the time of year when locals and visitors come together to enjoy everything our beautiful area has to offer — lazy swims at Hyams, sunset walks in Huskisson, a coffee catch-up on Owen Street, or a lazy afternoon paddle through the crystal-clear water at Booderee. And in between all that, our community spirit really shines — from Christmas markets and carols to charity drives.

As the year wraps up, we just want to say a big thank you to everyone who makes this place so special — the volunteers, the small business owners, the families, and the friendly faces you bump into every day.

Here's to a safe, sunny, and joy-filled festive season. See you out and about — or maybe floating in the bay!

This past year has been one of growth, reflection, and renewed purpose. At Our Community Bank Sanctuary Point and Districts, we've continued to focus on growing as individuals and as a team to position us as the best bank in the area. None of this would be possible without your continued trust and support.

As we look ahead to 2026, we recognise that change is often in the air — a time for new beginnings, fresh energy, and positive momentum. Whether it's a renewed focus on personal wellbeing, a commitment to financial health, or simply finding more time to enjoy the good things in life, we hope the year ahead brings prosperity and balance to you and your loved ones.

We invite you to visit us in the new year, reconnect, and discover what's next for Our Community Bank. Here's to new opportunities and shared success in 2026.

Basin Villages Forum

A Shoalhaven City Council Community Consultative Body

Basin Villages Forum and Summer Season

The Forum year comes to a temporary closure for December and January with normal general meetings resuming in February. The Annual General Meeting was conducted in November after the deadline for About closed but has been notified in the circulation of Minutes to Forum members and on the new BASIN VILLAGES FORUM  page. You will know you have found the current page when you see the Basin image matching this months edition of About magazine. The new Committee will monitor developments in any relevant Basin news and communicate these in the same way.

The "Keep Cats At Home" State Government Initiative.

A media release for Ministers for Environment and Local Government of October 26th indicated that 19 additional NSW Councils would receive $6 million to adopt this project.

Local media reported on October 30th that Shoalhaven Council would join this but in fact our Council was in the original 11 Councils that received $92,000 in 2021 based on problems that existed with roaming cats in the LGA. The Forum had requested Council to act on this in 2023. The various issues with cats had been canvassed and discussed over a number of years with a number of committee members active on the matter.

Council is involved in a partnership with the RSPCA in the initiative, which has been funded by the Environmental Trust. The program focuses on increasing rates of desexing, microchipping and lifetime registration while encouraging the uptake of voluntary containment.

SEASONS GREETINGS FROM THE FORUM

The Forum wishes everyone a very Happy Christmas and New Year and trust all of our Basin Community has a safe and enjoyable summer with family and friends.

Remember to join us on  at Basin Villages Forum

BIGGEST NEWS SANCTUARY POINT LIBRARY

At the time of writing this newsletter for a Nov.2 deadline Shoalhaven Council were involved in two actions concerning the Sanctuary Point Library. At the October 28th meeting a majority of Councilors reinstated the corner of Kerry Street and Paradise Beach Road as the preferred site for the Library, which it was originally.

The Council debate received a Deputation from Sanctuary Point Community Pride who tabled a 1228 petition calling for reinstatement of the Kerry Street corner site. The SPCP organisation is to be congratulated for the work they did on this issue, which was fully supported by the Forum.

A $7.5 million Federal Government funding was specifically for this site. A $500,000 Grant from the State Library Infrastructure toward the Library was also provided in 2022/23.

However a notice of a Recission Motion from Clr. Proudfoot, Clancy and Wilkins will mean the decision will be reconsidered at the next Council meeting. A staff report and an evaluation by State Library indicated the Kerry Street Corner site clearly offered by far the best of the preferred qualities of a number of sites listed.

Humpback Whales

Marine Mammal Research Jervis Bay

Marine Mammal Research (MMR) set up in 2006 on the New South Wales south coasts, with a strong focus on the marine mammals "cetaceans" and our blue backyard marine environment we all live in. The objective of MMR is to conduct sound scientific RESEARCH and citizen science on marine mammals and EDUCATE the public about cetaceans, their habitats and the importance of raising awareness for CONSERVATION.

CITIZEN SCIENCE: Project SEA Jervis Bay is a way that the public as citizen science can join an expedition with hands on learning use binoculars, camera, enter data that all contributes to science as a marine explorer. If you are in NSW on the water, on a boat or surfing or just walking the beaches and see any marine mammals let us know, you can submit a report online and contribute to research.

Humpback Whales – Marine Mammal Research Jervis Bay

The Australia's east coast humpback whale population is recovering; as the numbers have increased. Marine Mammal Research Jervis Bay has been collecting data on the marine mammals of Jervis Bay for 25 years. Historical data estimated that the number fell to as low as 200 animals due to overhunting whales, but have since rebounded to an estimated 50,000. (Dr Wally Franklin - The Oceania Project)

Humpback whales undertake one of the world's longest migrations, and Jervis Bay is known as one resting location for the southern migration as they undertake "maternal calf development". Research Scott Sheehan "Years ago, we never would be whale watching in August, they are migrating now like they would have pre whaling days," Scott Sheehan said, Researcher from MMR JB. "We are witnessing the recovery of a population from pre-whaling days which is amazing."

SEA Jervis Bay is a new citizen science project. "We need the general public to be involved and come out with us learning how to contribute to science. Anyone walking along the beach, or surfing or out on boats can document what they see and contribute to science."

Extending the Family

(by mistake)

Researching for a client, I found myself looking at Philip Peter Pinn, 1834 – 1919, father of Selina Ann Pinn 1860-1911, and Trove provided me with an obituary for Paul Pinn, who I knew to be a brother of Philip from UK census records already checked: (extract)

.....Mr. Pinn was a native of Sidbury, Devon, and came to this State when a young man, settling in Goulburn in the year 1858. At one time he and his brother Philip, of Crookwell, carried on business as builders. Amongst their most important works were - portion of SS. Peter and Paul's Cathedral, Goldsmith St. Methodist Church, the flour mills known as Kimpton's, and St. Andrew's Manse.....

I found their shipping record quite easily; they arrived on the Sultana from Plymouth, on 19 May 1855, and the passenger list on NSW State Records reel #2137 noted Philip was 20, Paul was 22 – both were carpenters, and with them was Alfred, age 17, a farm labourer. The logical step here is to check the relationships of the three young men.

The UK census in 1841 for Sidbury Devon, showed Paul & Peter, sister Selina, with their mother, also Selina, but no mention of an Alfred. 1851 also did not have an Alfred.

Next stop was to view the original record of the Shipping Agents lists for the Sultana, on NSW State Records reel #2471 when all became clear.

Philip & Paul were listed as carpenters, parents John & Celina; father dead, mother living in Sidbury. (The 1861 UK census confirmed this).

Alfred was a farm labourer, parents Richard & Sarah (dead). Paul stated he had an uncle Charles in the Colony who had arrived by the ship Rajasthan.

This record proved that Alfred was not a younger brother of the boys, and the uncle is a side step for further investigation at a later date.

So when you are searching immigration records, here are a few hints to stop you extending your family, leaving them behind in the old country, or killing them off even!

On shipping /assisted passenger lists families are usually listed first, but any adult children will be listed separately as Single Males/Females, and often future spouses & best friends can be found on the same voyage.

A widow or widower with children will be listed in a separate category, as will wives joining husbands already in the Colony.

Births & deaths on the voyage are usually on the last page of the ship's record but don't always name names.

Immigration from 1828 to 1842 can be in the Bounty immigration collection, to be found on Familysearch.org, but be aware that this collection is full of errors, mostly spelling of names & places, so think outside the box.

If you can't find an immigration record, your person could have been a convict or a soldier – but that's another story, and the answers to your questions are to be found in our library.

The Shoalhaven Family History Society Research Centre is in the Old Pyree School, at 888 Greenwell Point Road Pyree. We are open for research every Sunday & the 1st & 2nd Thursday of each month, all days from 10am to 2pm. Take a look at our website www.shoalhavenfamilyhistory.org.au for more information.

We will be closed over Christmas from 2pm on December 14th to 10am on Sunday January 11th 2026.

Our general meetings are held on the 1st Saturday of the month (excluding January) at 1.30pm, with afternoon tea to enjoy – a chat and catch up for everyone. Come along one day to see what we do and how we can help you. ■

TOMERONG FOOD HALL:

A Fresh New Chapter for Local Food Lovers

Tomerong School of Arts (Tomerong Hall) is proud to announce a delicious new direction for our beloved monthly market.

From 15 November, the Tomerong Food Hall will take centre stage every third Saturday of the month, bringing together the best of our region's homegrown and handmade food offerings.

In place of the regular Tomerong Market, this new monthly event will focus on local artisan style produce — think sourdough bread, free range eggs, fresh fruit and veg, honey, home baked cakes and jam, pastries, locally brewed gin, and more. And of course, Dave's Four Feet Espresso Coffee will be on hand to keep everyone caffeinated and cheerful.

With live music, friendly faces and the unmistakable charm of Tomerong Hall, we invite locals and visitors alike to come and experience the warmth of our community.

Grab yourself brekkie, morning tea or a coffee, stock up on your pantry essentials, and soak up the relaxed village vibe.

The broader Tomerong Market will now be held quarterly, with the next event happening in 2026. These seasonal markets will incorporate the Food Hall and expand to include artisans, artists, makers, bakers and shakers in a festive, fun atmosphere.

After many years of hosting monthly markets, we're excited to introduce this fresh new offer for the community.

Tomerong Food Hall is a celebration of local flavour, creativity, and connection — and we can't wait to welcome you.

WHAT LIES BEYOND CARCASSONNE – FRANCE

Contributed by Corinne Le Gall

Known as the best-preserved medieval city in the world, this hilltop town in the south of France is famous for its fortified citadel, numerous watchtowers and double-walled fortifications that can be seen from a good distance. The ramparts of the city total 3 kilometres and can only be accessed by foot. Mode of transport within the historical city is foot traffic only.

This UNESCO World Heritage Site has been listed since 1997. The large urban area at the foot of the hill of Carcassonne has a population of near 50,000 inhabitants, although the historical, medieval-walled section atop of the hill, known as 'La Cite' - only houses approximately 100 people.

Primarily a tourist attraction these days, the beautifully-line cobbled streets will lead you up and down as well as around the Old Town whilst giving you a good aerobic workout at the same time – for free. Outside of the massive walls downhill, you can visit the newer part of Carcassonne and venture to and through the winery regions.

Although built as a defence post due to its prime position on top of the hill, Carcassonne was demilitarised by Napoleon Bonaparte and hence, disrepair crept in. So much so that the French government decided that it should be demolished in 1849.

This caused a huge uproar and a campaign was launched to preserve the fortress as a historical monument. Work began in 1853.

The lower, although known as the modern town – the Ville Basse (lower city) – was founded in history as well during the late middle ages, which in European history translates to the years 1300AD to 1500AD, therefore, not so modern after all, but younger than the historical city atop the hill.

This lower city was founded as a settlement for the expelled inhabitants of the old walled-town sometime after the Crusades.

It also, had at one time been walled, although no longer intact. ■

Uncovering the Bay and Basin: Stories That Echo Across Time

From the stench of boiling whale blubber on the wind to the quiet solitude of a sailor's grave overlooking Jervis Bay, Uncovering the Bay and Basin brings to life the stories that have shaped our remarkable stretch of the South Coast. Produced in the studios of Bay & Basin 92.7FM, the locally made podcast tells big stories in small doses – each episode running under five minutes, perfect for a coffee break, morning walk or drive along the bay. Written and researched by local Wendy Hamlin and hosted by Stephen Brown, the series blends research, storytelling and sound design to uncover the people, industries and natural forces that shaped the Bay and Basin.

"We wanted to create something that connects people to the places they see every day," Wendy said. "There's so much history hidden within the coves, headlands and small towns around here, stories that remind us of who we are and how far we have come as a community."

Across its growing collection of short episodes, the series explores everything from the whaling boom and bust to colonial ambition, natural disasters and even Canberra's curious connection to Jervis Bay. More than a history lesson, it's an invitation to rediscover our region through sound – weaving archival research and local insight into vivid, accessible stories right from our doorstep. Listen to all the podcasts now at www.927fm.com.au

Uncovering the Bay and Basin is proudly produced by Bay & Basin Community Radio 92.7FM, a not-for-profit station powered by volunteers and the generosity of local business sponsors. Every partnership helps keep local voices on air and our shared stories alive.

Businesses interested in supporting the station and strengthening their connection to the community are encouraged to get in touch by calling 1300 222 748 or emailing info@BCRcommunities.com. ■

Potato and Mince Bake

courtesy of  Australian Home Cooks

INGREDIENTS

- 600g lamb or beef mince
- 3 cups tomato pasta sauce
- 2 tablespoon fresh parsley, chopped
- salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 1kg waxy or all-purpose potatoes
- extra olive oil, to brush over potatoes

METHOD

1. Preheat oven to 180°C. Heat oil in a large saucepan and brown mince for 5 to 10 minutes.
2. Drain off any excess fat, then add tomato pasta sauce and parsley. Stir to combine, season with salt and pepper, then set aside.
3. At the same time, cook whole potatoes in boiling, salted water for 7 minutes to half-cook, then drain well and slice.
4. Spread half the meat sauce over the base of a lasagne-style baking dish. Arrange a layer of sliced potatoes over the meat sauce, then cover with the remaining meat sauce. Arrange a second layer of potatoes over the surface. Brush potatoes with a little oil to finish.
5. Cover dish with foil and bake for 40 minutes or until potatoes are tender.
6. Remove foil and bake uncovered for a further 20 minutes to lightly brown the top. ■

REGAN

Contributed by John Blackmore

Within the Shoalhaven district, the Regan family name has been synonymous with many different aspects of community life for over a century. In particular, numerous family and extended family members have been noted for their sporting prowess. Most significant is the respect the family has engendered around the district from various members who have put so much time and effort back in to the wider sporting community.

In 1919, Harry Regan played in a rugby league premiership team with the Nowra Warriors. The following year, he would team up with ARTIE SMITH (About® Monthly Feature August 2005) as part of the first senior rugby league teams fielded by Pyree Rovers. Artie and his Pyree cricketing mates Toby and Merv Bice had played before the First World War for Nowra Warriors in the first local rugby league competition in 1913.

Back in 1901, Pyree Rovers had started as a rugby union team. They played in a competition spread along the South Coast for several seasons. Gerringong, Cambewarra and Coolangatta (known as the Rob Roys) all formed rugby union teams in the same year as Pyree. Berry, Kembla and Nowra Warriors were others teams known to play rugby union in those seasons.

When Pyree Rovers reformed as a rugby league club in 1920, the competition was still in a rebuilding phase, with Gerringong winning the first premiership after the war, before Nowra Warriors won the next. South Coast Rugby Football League competitions in 1920 comprised eight teams in first grade, and seven in reserve grade. Pyree entered a first grade team, playing against Nowra, Berry, Gerringong, Jamberoo, Kangaroo Valley, Kiama and Naval College. Nowra, Berry, Gerringong, Jamberoo, Kiama, Shellharbour and Bomaderry made up the teams who competed in reserve grade.

Harry Regan's brother Mick is noted as playing during this season, with Artie, Merv and Toby being joined by members of other families like the Wilson, Watts, Caddells and Coultharts. Most team members were from farming families from around Pyree and Numbaa.

While its cricket club played on grounds around Pyree that were farm paddocks prepared for that summer sport, and despite holding meetings at the Pyree Literary Institute Hall, and training in the adjacent school grounds, the rugby league club began playing its home games on a ground in Nowra. This was at the eastern end of Junction Street near where the northern entrance to the Nowra Stocklands Shopping Centre exists today. This ground was fabled for the large shady figtree which stood there for many years, until the highway realignment at the end of the 1970s saw its disappear.

Pyree Rovers played successfully as a rugby league club right up until the advent of the Second World War, for many of those seasons competing as a first grade entity. While a premiership eluded the club in the top grade, it did win the reserve grade premiership in 1935, and the second ever under 18s competition to be played, in 1939. Mick Regan played in the 1935 premiership team, then coached the Under 18s to their premiership. His nephew Ted Regan was a member of this Under 18s team.

1945 saw the Rovers win the Reserve Grade Premiership again, upon the resumption of competitive rugby league competition immediately after World War II. A few years after that it would merge with the Nowra Warriors, re-emerge as a single team reserve grade club, then disappear permanently by 1955.

Harry Regan married his wife in 1923. Universally known as Maggie, she was a member of the LONESBOROUGH (About® Monthly Feature May 2022) family. In the first years of their marriage, they lived on a property on the south side of the Crookhaven River where her grandparents lived. Over the next 23 years, their marriage would produce ten children. They were Ted (b. 1923), Jack (b. 1927), Frank (b. 1930), Dennis (b. 1933), Kathleen (b. 1936), Margaret (b. 1937), Helen (b. 1940), Bernie (b. 1943) and Joan (b. 1946). Another son was born between Ted and Jack, but died as an infant.

As Harry began working in the 1920s, among other jobs, as a contractor helping to survey lands for the Halloran Family companies, the family would move several times as it was growing. The Crookhaven property on which they first lived after their marriage was next to the landmark known as the Archgate. This was the entrance to Halloran land on the peninsula beyond, for places like present day Culburra, Callala and Currarong.

Harry's contract work with the company meant travel to other areas to work. This work included surveying a land estate at Unanderra in Wollongong in the early 1930s, as well as ones in the Lake Macquarie district around Newcastle. Consequently, the young but growing Regan family would move in to addresses in Bridge Road Nowra, and at the top end of Kinghorne Street, then the southern outskirts of Nowra. After a brief while living at Falls Creek, the family would then settle back at the Crookhaven property.

In 1932, Harry Regan was employed as a cleaner at the Pyree Hall as one of his jobs around that area. Adjacent to the Pyree School, it was the hub of an extremely vibrant community. Apart from its football club, the cricket club continued to be a presence in district first grade competition, the hall hosted annual ball nights after the Shoalhaven Rowing Club regattas, had an active Musical Society the equal of anything in Nowra/Bomaderry at the time, as well as being the administrative base for the South Shoalhaven Municipal Council. It was into this environment that Harry and Maggie Regan's growing family were to develop.

In later years, Ted revealed that as teenagers, their father, a committeeman as well for many of the regatta events (probably the biggest annual spectator sporting event across the district at the time), entered him and his brother Jack in to rowing races. One of the training methods he used was to have his sons row upriver from the Numbaa Regatta course, then turn in to a stiffening nor'easterly breeze, and row against the wind; to make them work harder in training.

In 1953, Harry and Maggie moved their family away from the Crookhaven land that had been lived on by the extended family for the best part of a century. This is one of the reasons that the Halloran family would eventually name the property REGANVILLE; one of the names by which the land goes by today. Harry took a job in Milligan's Bakery in Berry Street Nowra, working there from this time onwards. After this point, the family lived in St Annes Street Nowra as each of the children were starting to make their own way in life. One by one, they all married.

In the REGAN CUP About..... Monthly Feature in July 2004, many of the sporting exploits of the siblings and son-in-law Ivan 'Chips' Gray were noted in detail. In 2025, the Nowra/Culburra Surf Club celebrated 70 years of existence. Jack Regan was in the very first surf boat crew for that club, followed closely by Chips.

In the years around the REGAN CUP being named after the family as the premiership trophy for the 3rd grade South Coast Group Seven Rugby League competition, Jack and Chips as Senior and Junior Vice-Presidents respectively nominated John O'Dwyer to become a paid secretary of the league. John fulfilled this role for 40 years, in amongst a myriad of other community commitments.

Amongst the four REGAN sisters, Joan is the only sibling to live permanently outside the district after she married. Between 1970 and 1990, she played squash in the highest divisions of the Brisbane Metropolitan competitions, as well as being an active ballroom dancer, and an actress in amateur theatre groups in Brisbane. Helen played tennis and squash for 30 years, winning the Shoalhaven A grade ladies doubles tennis in 1971. She had represented at the 1954 Country Week tennis tournament in Sydney, after playing in representative P.S.A.A.A. competitions while attending Pyree School.

Margaret was the N.S.W. Estuary Fishing Champion in 1976 and 1979. Later, in 1985, she competed in a team of three women who won the Australian Deep Sea Fishing Championships, held in Western Australia. Two years later on the Gold Coast, Margaret won the 1987 Australian Estuary Championships.

Probably the family's most unique achievement among many, is the day the four eldest Regan brothers first played first grade rugby league together for Nowra Warriors. As a teenager, Bernie must have looked on in awe of his older brothers. A proud moment for their parents too, one would suggest. ■

Wool Road Spinners & Weavers

Inc.

Christmas Greetings without spin, or going back and forward, from the Wool Road Spinners and Weavers

We wish all the readers of About a safe Christmas, and may there be some very special moments for each and everyone during this time. We thank Bendigo Bank and the Editor, Michelle, for the work they do to produce this magazine for the community.

To finish 2025, here is an interview of another of our members, Jennifer: Jennifer has maintained her joy of spinning moved to through a number of moves, demonstrating the joy she has of the craft. There are many spinning groups throughout Australia, and most like us are a member of the Hand Weavers and Spinners of NSW.

Some years ago Jennifer went, by chance, to the Winter Woolfest run by the Sutherland Shire Spinners and Weavers. She started to go to the group as a social day out to knit but then got roped into spinning about thirteen years ago. At first, she found spinning was frustrating, but eventually it fell into place, and Jennifer is a fine spinner these days.

Jenny was a member with Wool Road Spinners and Weavers but she moved and became a member with the Hunter Valley group. But Wool Road beckoned again when she moved back to the South Coast. Her dedication is such that she travels from Shellharbour to maintain her friendships and spinning skills with the Wool Road crew. Have I convinced you yet that we really are friendly?

Jennifer tends to spin for smaller items such as hats, headbands and scarves. One item she remembers is knitting a greasy wool jumper for a fisherman. Greasy Wool is when wool is knitted without all the lanolin being washed out. It is a great way to then have a more water-resistant article, particularly liked by fisherman and farmers.

Presently Jennifer is working with 3 to 4kg of alpaca and mohair fibre creating a very fine yarn ready for knitting.

When asked how she selects what she is next going to produce, Jennifer said she buys for colour and then plans and sets her goal for her next article.

So as New Year approaches, those wonderful thoughts of new resolutions arise. So drop in and see if we can tempt you to develop or restore a craft with some friendly people. You can even enjoy a coffee or tea as you check us out. There's plenty of time as our first meeting in 2026 is Thursday the 15th January.

Shoalhaven Justices of the Peace
at work for you

NSW
Justices

In continuing on from my last article on how to find a Justice of the Peace, I have added a few other thoughts and the procedure for Appointment as a Justice of the Peace in New South Wales. How many JPs are in your area? Over 50 and sometimes you cannot find one. I wonder why?

Justice of the Peace prior to the year 2000 were JPs for life. This changed in the year 2000 to a five-year term. Even the person who was a JP for life at this time was given a five year term and then renewal at the end of that. For the first time in our history JPs are now required to complete a 20 question test and must obtain 100% so they know what they are doing and are competent.

As you can see below you must complete the test first, prior to meeting with your State MP. Prior to this you had a book with the legal action a JP could take and wished the best. Now you need to know what you are doing.

What you will need:

1. To register for JP Online
2. To pass the JP Knowledge Test, this is based on the information in the JP Handbook.
3. To complete an appointment application form. This includes requesting a NSW Member of Parliament to consider nominating you
4. The application will indicate which documents you need to provide and may include any of the following:
 - Your Australian Birth Certificate
 - Your Australian passport
 - Your Australian citizenship certificate
 - A document from the NSW Electoral Office which shows you are currently enrolled to vote in NSW
 - A change of name certificate and proof of use of that name
 - Contact details for two character references

How do I become a Justice of the Peace?

- If you are applying to be a community JP, you will need to describe the community based need for your appointment in 2,000 words or less
- If you are applying as part of an employment need, a letter on your employers letterhead demonstrating the need for your appointment.

Well, how do I apply to become a JP NOW and in the future? (You must be a minimum of 18 years of age)

1. Select the "Register for JP Online" button
2. Confirm your eligibility and enter your personal details
3. Receive an email from the Department of Justice confirming your registration
4. Take the JP Knowledge Test on JP Online
5. Gather all required supporting documentation
6. Select "Apply to be a JP" to complete the appointment application using JP Online
7. If your local State Member agrees to nominate you, your application will be sent directly to The Department of Justice for processing
8. Take the Oath of Office at a NSW Local Court.

I also suggest that when you are notified you have been appointed a JP then you should join the New South Wales Justices Association to keep yourself up to date as changes come through.

I trust this has been helpful and just a reminder that ALL JPs must REGISTER ON JP ONLINE NOW – if you need a hand please give me a call.

Regards, Laurie

CLIFTON COMMUNITY FOOD GARDEN

Hours: Tues and Sat 9 to 12; Fri 3 to 6pm – Contributed by Colleen McIntyre

Another calendar year draws to a close but the garden grows on!

The tomatoes are amazing; the weather has been excellent for their growth this season. The bushes are more like trees, thriving under the care of the growing committee and keen members, from early September. Tomatoes are the highlight of the summer production and more than half the beds are dedicated to producing a good crop. As well as the members enjoying the heirloom varieties with excellent flavour for eating, the excess are frozen and stored for the year. These are then used for the delicious preserves of chutney, pickles and sauces made for the fundraising throughout the year. And we need lots!!

We grow even-sized clear skin varieties for the cooking and the flavour of the larger meaty Grosse Lisse and Beef Steak is prized for general use and then a variety of the smaller growing tasty morsels like Tiny Tom and Small Truss are favoured by all. It is a wonderful time of the year!!

Care has also been taken to plant lots of Basil in with the tomatoes as they complement one another in growing as well as eating. Then many of the members make lovely fresh pesto, which also complement all tomato dishes but also many other of summer's food delights.

The lettuce, which have been planted in many varieties as usual are sharing the beds with varieties of Mizuna, a popular green found in salad packs and bowls in the last few years and coming to us from Japan. It has green and red varieties but the flavour is the same, peppery and pleasantly bitter, and the thin white stems are crunchy. Mizuna contains compounds that have anti-inflammatory properties, which can help reduce inflammation in the body and reduce the risk of chronic diseases. Supports digestion: Mizuna is a good source of fibre, which can help promote digestion and prevent constipation. It is not eaten raw in Japan- instead; it's pickled, stir-fried, simmered and added to hot pot dishes. Only light cooking is recommended to preserve the rich source of vitamins contained within. It can also grow as a sprout crop and eaten while very young although the flavour is mild or missing.

Watch out for those 'stink bugs' on the citrus trees, they are orange now, easy to see, so hunt them down and destroy them. Please!

We have been lucky enough to receive a grant from our local bank, the Bendigo Bank, for improvements to conditions to the garden enclosures. The slippery pathway has been replaced by Geohex and gravel, improving drainage problems and serviceability. We are most grateful for their support.

The last fundraiser for the year is on Saturday 20th December, which is close to that very special day but hey – a chance to top up the treats for yourself or as thanks for that BBQ invite in the holidays. The flags will fly and the cheery members will be in the garden to greet one and all, with chutney, relish, pickles and jam and produce as available. There will also be a cuppa and cake available!

We wish all our readers a Happy and Joyful Christmas Season and a Healthy New Year for 2026.

Companion Planting

Brad Wilson – Herbalist

No man is an island, and that goes for plants as well. Plants need company – like humans they get lonely.

Companion planting is not a new trend. The ancients knew that certain plants thrived when grown in close proximity to certain other plants. In today's world of intensive monoculture, the only company a young cabbage gets down on the farm is another cabbage. Too bad if they don't get along – they are stuck with each other. And that's not the worst of it. If a hungry cabbage moth comes along with a party of ten and spies your row of cabbages, you know what they are all going to want for dinner – and it's not fish fingers with chips.

To protect against insects naturally, there are two approaches. One is to grow a smelly plant next to the cabbage, like thyme or garlic. That makes a cabbage harder to find, as insects rely on smell just as much as eyesight. The second is to include a plant even more tasty to the insect than the cabbage, such as African marigolds. True, the moth-eaten marigold will not thank you, but its cabbage friends will more likely thrive and shine – at least till harvest day.

Some plants help each other grow. A good example is beans and corn. Although everyone knows that beans cause indigestion and acute embarrassment in confined spaces, not everyone knows that beans fertilise the soil by adding nitrogen to it. The nitrogen in the soil is then used by other plants, such as corn which needs a lot of nitrogen.

The idea is to first plant the corn. As the corn starts to grow, plant the beans. Everyone knows that beans like rock climbing and the beans will soon climb up the corn. Result: happy beans, happy corn. Who would have thought that beans and corn are BFF – Best Friends Forever.

On the other hand, some plants are strictly IHYG – I Hate Your Guts. One of the most disliked plants in the vegetable kingdom is fennel. Fennel is that bad neighbour in the vegetable patch. Have you noticed that fennel seems to have a bad case of body odour? Well other vegetables have certainly noticed and they do not like it. They just can't stand to be near fennel and will show their disdain by growing poorly. ■

OUR YEAR IN REVIEW

It has been a very busy year for the members of Sanctuary Point Community Pride Inc as we campaign for improvements to our community.

Neighbour Day is held on the last Sunday in March and SPCP intended to hold a community BBQ at Clifton Park. Unfortunately poor weather led to the cancellation but it made us aware that Clifton Park badly needs a large picnic shelter. President Allen Kruse has been in discussions with Council to gain the necessary permission for SPCP go ahead and raise funds and have it erected. Council would not be funding it. This year's raffle proceeds will contribute to those costs. Allen thanks members who generously gave their time to sell tickets. Joan Hall rates a special mention as she not only donated two prizes but also sold tickets and then folded them. The raffle winners were announced at the Spring Into Sanctuary Point fair and all prizes have been delivered.

Another project was to showcase to visitors and residents alike the wonderful facilities we have in Sanctuary Point. Our Treasurer and digital whizz Christine McNerney Percy developed a map of these attractions. Free copies of this map will soon be appearing at public spaces.

Our member John Svoboda has been campaigning for improved bus services to the bay and basin resulting in an increase of services. To improve patronage John and Christine have designed a schematic map (similar to the famous London Underground map) to show where the buses run. This will also have a QR Code with access to bus companies' timetables.

Our much-loved library is too small for our growing population and for several years

Council has worked on various designs to build a new one. In January their Architects submitted preliminary designs for a library to be built on the corner of Kerry Street and Paradise Beach Road. As reported in June's edition of About magazine Councillors voted against this site and SPCP commenced the campaign to have that design built there. Secretary Gwen Price led the campaign and to test support for the Kerry Street corner site, a petition was circulated. Over 1228 signatures were gathered and the petition was submitted by Cllr Gemma Tribe at the Council meeting of 28 October. To our delight Council passed 7:5 the amended motion to have the library built on the Kerry Street corner. Regrettably some Councillors were unhappy with that result and moved a rescission motion. As this report goes to press, we await an outcome that reinforces the will of the community.

Earlier in the year President Allen Kruse and Secretary Gwen Price met with relevant NSW Ministers at the Community Cabinet at Ulladulla about the library issue and the Police Station. In particular community concerns about staffing levels and the operating hours at the Police Station. Chief Inspector Nick Hallett accepted our invitation to attend our June meeting where he urged residents to call 131 444 if they notice any suspicious activity as being the best way to alert police. He explained that police numbers will increase over summer and station operating hours vary according to police requirements.

SPCP also works well with other community organisations such as Firefly Bay and Basin, the youth focussed initiative of Uniting. Whether it be encouraging youth activities, cooking a BBQ at the skate park or auspicing their funds, SPCP supports Firefly's endeavours.

Another project that Christine has been working on is improvements to the large billboard at the big roundabout on Naval College Road. Many visitors approach Sanctuary Point from that direction and some of the signage is in a very dilapidated state. By the onset of summer it is planned to have that sign updated to showcase our attractions and improve visitation to Sanctuary Point. We all benefit when our businesses are doing well.

About Community Groups

On October 18 we held our annual Spring Into Sanctuary Point. Over 1800 people attended this very successful fair. There is a lot of work involved in holding this event and our congratulations go to Christine and her team of SPCP Members and community volunteers.

All of these activities would not be possible without the support of local businesses and successful grant applications. FRRR, Shoalhaven City Council, Bendigo Bank Sanctuary Point and Veolia Mulwaree Trust deserve special mention. We thank the Country Club St Georges Basin for allowing us to use their meeting room. We have also been backed by the Federal Member for Gilmore Fiona Phillips MP and the NSW Member for South Coast Liza Butler.

SPCP takes pride in our community. The SPCP Executive thanks our members for their efforts during the year. To learn more about us, visit our Facebook page or our website spcp.org.au

We welcome new members who are interested in contributing in a big or a small way to the improvement of our community. We are a keen and friendly bunch.

Come along to one of our monthly meetings or contact our Secretary Gwen Price on 0419 492 348 for more information.

Don't Get Caught Off Guard – Snake Awareness

Contributed by South Coast First Aid – 0410 024 869 – www.southcoastfirstaid.com.au

As the weather warms up, snakes are on the move again across the Shoalhaven.

Encounters can happen on bushwalks, in paddocks, and even close to home.

Be Prepared With the Right Gear

Having the right gear is just as important as knowing what to do. That's why we recommend keeping a Snake Bite Bandage with Continuous Indicator in your kit — to guide you to create the correct tension.

Snake bites are rare, but they're serious. The best protection is being prepared, confident, and equipped.

Most snake venom reaches the bloodstream via the lymphatic system. Research has shown that very little venom reaches circulation if Pressure Immobilisation Bandaging is applied immediately and maintained.

How to apply a Pressure Immobilisation Bandage

1. If on a limb, apply a broad pressure bandage over the bite site as soon as possible. Elasticised bandages (10–15 cm wide) are preferred over crepe bandages. If neither are available, clothing or other material should be used. The bandage should be firm and tight — you should be unable to easily slide a finger between the bandage and the skin.
2. To further restrict lymphatic flow and to assist in immobilisation of the limb, apply a second pressure bandage, starting at the fingers or toes of the bitten limb and extending upward to cover as much of the limb as possible.

Why Snake Awareness Matters

Many of the snakes found in Australia are capable of lethal bites to humans. These include Taipans, Brown snakes, Tiger snakes, Death Adders, Black snakes, Rough Scaled snakes and many Sea snakes.

The bite may be painless and without visible marks.

Other symptoms and signs of a snake bite may include:

- Paired fang marks, though often only a single mark or scratch (localised redness and bruising are uncommon in Australian snake bites)
- Headache
- Nausea and vomiting
- Abdominal pain
- Blurred or double vision, or drooping eyelids
- Difficulty in speaking, swallowing or breathing
- Swollen tender glands in the groin or armpit of the bitten limb
- Limb weakness or paralysis
- Respiratory weakness or respiratory arrest

First Aid for Snake Bite

If someone is bitten, remember these critical steps:

- Call 000 immediately

- Keep the person immobilised (still), reassured and under constant observation
- Apply a pressure immobilisation bandage
- Commence CPR if the person is unresponsive and not breathing normally. There is no risk of transmission of venom to the rescuer by providing CPR.
- A digital photograph of the snake may be helpful in identification if safe to do so.
- Antivenom is available for all venomous snakes native to Australia.

Note:

- DO NOT cut or incise the bite
- DO NOT use an arterial tourniquet
- DO NOT wash or suck the bite

For more information see the Australian Resuscitation Council Guidelines at <https://www.anzcor.org/home/first-aid-for-bites-stings-and-poisoning/guideline-9-4-1-first-aid-management-of-australian-snake-bite>

Jervis Bay Male Choir Sings Out

A dozen hearty voices took to the stage at Worrowing Heights Residential Aged Care facility in early October, as the Jervis Bay Male Choir entertained the residents with songs that they had been quietly practising in anticipation of the event. The choir was rewarded with a large and appreciative audience as they ran through their repertoire, skilfully led by maestro Lorraine Sneesby and accompanied on the keyboard by virtuoso Helen McKenzie.

The morning started with a robust rendition of the Kentucky coal mining classic Sixteen Tons, a huge hit for Tennessee Ernie Ford in 1955. The Australian classics Andy's Gone With Cattle (Henry Lawson) and Bound for South Australia were part of the performance which also included the stage show songs Nothing Like a Dame, Some Enchanted Evening and The Impossible Dream. The haunting She (included in the film "Notting Hill") and The Rose, popularised by Bette Midler, provided a change in tempo before the Negro spiritual Hand Me Down My Silver Trumpet and the whimsical Eric Idle classic Always Look on the Bright Side of Life brought the room alive.

The Jervis Bay Male Choir meets weekly for practice, from 5.30 to 7pm on Fridays, usually at Coastal Waters Community Centre, but occasionally at Aveo Village Community Centre.

Men of any age interested in joining the choir, or just coming along to see if they like it, should phone Lorraine on 0408 422 423 to determine the venue of the next practice session.

The choir revels in the joy of singing and does not require musical experience or an audition.

PROJECT SKATE BRINGS ENERGY TO SANCTUARY POINT AND SUSSEX INLET!

The skateparks of Sanctuary Point and Sussex Inlet came alive on the weekend of 11 and 12 October. Project Skate events were made possible through a generous community grant from Bendigo Bank Sanctuary Point and Districts, whose support helped turn the students' vision into reality. The events were part of the Youth Voice Project, an initiative that empowers Vincentia High School students to lead projects that make a difference in their local communities.

Both days were led by the Totem Skateboarding team, including Olympian Liv Lovelace, who brought incredible energy and encouragement to the sessions. On both days Totem ran two structured skateboarding workshops followed by a Skate Jam, a friendly skate competition where participants could show off their skills, try new tricks, and cheer each other on.

A real standout moment was seeing the Project Skate students from Vincentia High School team deliver one of their main goals, providing a free, fun, and inclusive event for the Bay and Basin community. Supported by Firefly Bay and Basin, the students took charge of everything from planning and promotion to on-the-day logistics.

Watching them step up with confidence and teamwork was a proud moment for everyone involved.

The local community also played a key role. Sanctuary Point Community Pride Inc. and the Sussex Inlet Neighbourhood Centre rolled up their sleeves to cook the much-loved community sausage sizzle and helped promote the events through their networks. The atmosphere was upbeat, welcoming, and supportive, a true celebration of community spirit.

Feedback from the weekend was overwhelmingly positive. Young people and families alike asked for more events like this, saying how much they appreciated having a safe, positive space to connect, learn, and have fun. At the Sussex Inlet event, conversations naturally turned into the dream of a new and improved skate park, one with added street-style features and better amenities. The buzz of enthusiasm quickly turned into talk of community collaboration and advocacy, with parents and residents voicing their support for making it happen.

Project Skate Youth Voice students are now analysing the data they collected from skaters and community members and are working on a concept design for a new Sussex Inlet Skate Park. Their goal is to present the design to the community, rally local support, and inspire collective action to bring the new park to life.

The biggest takeaway from the weekend? That young people are capable of incredible things when given the opportunity. The Project Skate team proved themselves to be passionate advocates for their peers and their community, showing leadership, creativity, and determination.

The Project Skate events didn't just deliver two great days of skating; they built momentum, strengthened community connections, and reminded everyone that change starts with young people having a voice and the courage to use it.

Celebrating Grandparents' Day with a Heartwarming Community Event

We welcomed approximately 300 grandparents and special friends for a joyful Grandparents' Day celebration that truly showcased the school's role as the heart of the community. Guests were warmly invited into classrooms to share in a massive recipe-sharing activity, working alongside their young learners in a fun and collaborative way. The atmosphere was filled with laughter, learning, and the special bond between generations.

Following the classroom visits, everyone gathered to watch a vibrant showcase assembly featuring more than just performances — it was a lively celebration of the school's creative spirit. Our talented choir, drama, and dance groups took to the stage, accompanied by special performances from Kindergarten, Stage 1, and Stage 2 students, delighting all in attendance. The morning concluded with a special morning tea generously provided by the HPS P&C. We are truly grateful to our incredible school community—especially the grandparents and special friends—whose ongoing support enriches the learning experience for every student and staff member. Events like Grandparents' Day remind us why HPS is more than just a place of learning; it is a vibrant hub where community, connection, and education come together. Thank you to everyone who made this day so memorable. We look forward to continuing to grow and learn together as one community.

Evalyn's Athletics Achievement

Evalyn's hard work and dedication to athletics have taken her all the way to the top levels of competition. After strong performances at the school and local district carnivals, she progressed through the regional championships and earned her place at the NSW PSSA State Championships in Homebush, competing in both the 100m and 200m events.

Racing with determination and grit, Evalyn secured a third place finish on the state podium—an incredible achievement that has qualified her for selection in the NSW team. She will proudly represent our community at the National Championships later this month. Adding to her success, Evalyn has also been selected to compete in the 200m medley and the combined event (100m, 800m, long jump, and shot put). Congratulations, Evalyn, on your remarkable achievements and the inspiration you bring to others through your perseverance and passion for sport! We wish you every success at Nationals.
