HEALTH CANADA'S MINISTERIAL CLASS EXEMPTION FOR EXCEPTIONAL IMPORTATION & SALE OF CERTAIN FOODS SPECIAL DIETARY PURPOSE

Informing you of important documents that affect your labelling strategies

Health Canada's (HC) notice of intent (NOI_ FSDP Order/AI_Arrêté AFDS) to update the original proposal (October 2024) by streamlining "its requirements, to address targeted feedback from stakeholders, and to better align the proposed Order with the ministerial class exemption authority set out in section 30.05 of the Food and Drugs Act (FDA). launched a public consultation to propose a modernized regulatory framework for infant foods and foods for special dietary use."

HC's ministerial class exemption order objectives are as follows:

- "Part 1 of the proposed Order: Enable, in the case of a shortage or risk of a shortage, the exceptional importation and sale of certain classes of FSDP by exempting them, subject to conditions, from provisions of the FDA and the FDR. The aim is to help ensure that in the event of a shortage situation, people in Canada can continue to access the FSDP they need to meet their nutritional needs.

- Part 2 of the proposed Order: Ensure that the importation and sale of the infant formula and human milk fortifiers currently being imported for sale pursuant to Health Canada's Transition Strategy remains permissible until Health Canada has completed its pre-market review and reached a final decision regarding the product's authorization for sale under Division 25 of the FDR."
