Evidence rec'd in Lab on 5-11-76. Large sealed cardboard box containing the following:

Item #1 - One (1) plastic bag containing a green T-boggan

Examined microscopically for paint & fibers

Several fibers found but none were similar to those in

Item #6 & #7

Two (2) white fragments on T-boggan but they were imbedded with fibers & possibly got there when used. Not possible to compare with paint in Item #8

Item #2. One (1) plastic bag containing a pair of black gloves.

No evidence of value found

Item #3. One (1) plastic bag containing a black leather jacket

No hair, fibers, or paint present

Fragment & 1 seed of marijuana found in left inside pocket

No smears of paint present

Item #4 - One (1) plastic bag containing a known head hair sample from suspect
Not examined

Item #5 - One (1) plastic bag containing pubic hair from the suspect

Item #6 - One (1) glass test tube containing carpet fibers
None found in other items similar to it
Known fibers

Item #7 - One (1) glass test tube containing carpet fibers
None found in other items similar to it
White fibers.

Item #8 - One (1) test tube containing known paint
from the scene
Not examined since ~~no~~ no paint found in other items

Item #9 - One (1) plastic bag containing suspect hair from the crime scene.
Not examined

Item #10 - One (1) plastic bag containing known pubic hair from the victim

Not examined

Item #11 - One (1) plastic bag containing matchbook

Five (5) partially broken of matches and 1 empty ^{holder} holder for cigarette paper

All but one of the match books eliminated by color. Characteristic of the last were not sufficient for ID with matches in #12. They probably did not originate from this match book.

Item #12 - One (1) plastic bag containing three (3) partially burned matches.

One (1) match (largest) entirely different than the other two. Other two matches similar to one of the match books but positive ID not possible. Probably did not originate from the book.

Item #13 - One (1) plastic bag containing the victim's slather

Not examined

ITEMS SUBMITTED:

- Item #1 - One (1) shoe track impression.
 Item #2 - Two (2) known shoe tracks on paper.

TYPE EXAMINATION REQUESTED:

Shoe track examination and comparison.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The shoe track impression submitted in Item #1 above was examined and noted to contain a partial shoe track impression. The known shoe track impressions submitted in Item #2 above were examined and compared with the shoe track impression represented on Item #1 above and was noted to be of the same tread design.

There were an insufficient number of distinct characteristics noted by which to effect any identification.

It is this Examiner's opinion that the two (2) known shoe track impressions submitted in Item #2 above could have made the shoe track impression represented on Item #1 above.

ROOM NO.

Discharged: 4-30-76

This 54 year old white female was brought into the hospital the evening of 4-25-76, an alleged case of rape. The patient was examined and found to have multiple cuts and bruises over her mouth and face, also abrasions around her head, anterior shins, vulva and a cut inside of her lip. Examination showed abrasions, ecchymoses, imprints and bruises around the vulva. There was a large amount of fluid in the vagina. This was examined in the laboratory and an extremely high count of normal active male human spermatozoa were seen. Patient was then examined and specimens taken and the rape protocol in the Emergency Room was followed. The patient was then admitted to the hospital. Then the patient was treated and gradually improved. She developed a hematoma in the left inguinal region low from previous bruises and injuries. This symptom will probably subside. Patient was then discharged from the hospital 4-30-76 after five days in the hospital to be followed in the office.

MEDICAL RECORD

The patient is a 54 year old white, widowed female.
Address: 158 South Union Street, Concord, North Carolina.
Telephone Number: 782-6917.

CHIEF COMPLAINT: The patient was raped.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION: General examination shows the face to be swollen with ecchymoses, bruises, small abrasion and cuts. Her face appears to have been beaten, like beaten with a blunt object such as a fist. Both her wrists are markedly sore and swollen although on palpation there is no evidence of fracture. She feels this occurred when she was trying to beat her assailant over the head with her hands and wrists. The upper chest and the abdomen is not marked. On further examination of the face the lip is cut on the inside and also on both the upper and the lower lips. There are numerous cuts and skin abrasions with the entire skin being removed from the anterior surface of both legs over the tibias with the largest wound on the anterior aspect of the left leg. The patients fingernails are all sore and some of them have been bent backward which the patient thinks occurred when she was trying to scratch her assailant and fighting back.

PELVIC: The pubic hair was combed and this was put into a plastic bag. This patient previously had a total abdominal hysterectomy done by myself so the vaginal vault was intact. In the vaginal vault in the posterior fornix there was a large amount of rather thick fluid ~~and vaginal secretions~~. This fluid was aspirated, put on slide by wet preparation to take to the laboratory and examined by myself. It was swarming with numerous live motile human spermatozoa. I had this verified by three lab technicians who also initialed this report. Additional secretion was taken from the vaginal vault and placed on two slides for dried preparations. In addition to this, a portion of this fluid was taken on two swabs, placed in a test tube and was stoppered so besides the live sperm there were three separates, the pubic hair in the plastic bag, the test tube with the vaginal swabs, and vaginal secretion containing the material in which the sperm were present and two smears for dried preparations. These were all taken according to the rape protocol which was done in the Emergency Room. The rectal examination was negative. There was nothing palpable in the adnexa. There were small bruises and abrasion marks with Summary report, relative to Case# 76-04-R-203.

Victim: Sarah Judson Bost, 158 South Union Street, Concord, NC 28025

Location of crime(s): Victim's Residence.

Date/Time of crime(s): 2145 on 4-25-1976.

Suspect arrested: Ronnie Wallace Long Black/Male/Age 20

Date of arrest: May 10, 1976

The following is a narrative report intended to show the evidence/identification work done relative to the above case.

April 25/26, 1976: Notified by the Concord Police Department that Sgt. Lee was answering a Rape Complaint at 158 South Union Street and needed assistance at the scene. Upon arriving at the crime scene, a visual observation of the scene was made and relative facts learned from Sgt. Lee.

(Note: Victim not at scene at this time.)

Crime scene was photographed (interior and exterior) and notes taken as to location of certain articles in the crime scene. Photographes made with Tri-X 120, Black & White Film, with two rolls being shot at scene on this date.

After photographing the scene, a crime scene search was made to gather evidence of the crime(s). The following items were recovered and marked as evidence:

1. Broken plate and eating fork (Den)
2. Victim's Clothing and shoes (Hallway at base of stairs)
3. Matches (Burned) (Upstairs front bedroom and hallway)
4. Button (Victim's) (Rear entrance, gmV)
5. One hair, appearing to human in origin (Hallway at base of stairs)
6. Latent prints (see attached sheet)
7. A floor search for blood/foreign materials/finger-nails/etc. proved to be negative.

8. An examination of the exterior of the residence revealed that an attempt to climb a rear down-spout had been made and had possibly been successful. No latents of value were recovered from this area and there was no evidence available at this location other than the signs of an attempt to climb up the down-spout. Note: this could easily have been done by an intruder.
9. Crime scene search failed to turn up anything further at this time.

Latent Finger-prints:

April 25,26,27,28,29,30 and May 3 and 4:

A total of 68 latent lifts were recovered from the crime scene (interior and exterior). Of this number 10 have been identified by this officer as those of the victim and a number of others have rendered no identification value, due to lack of sufficient points or unclearness of lift.

All prints have been repeatedly checked against suspect(s) and no identification have been made from the latents.

Note: Due to fact that suspect probably wore gloves, a rescheck of crime scene has been made to search and recover latent fabric prints which may have been made by suspect's gloves. This has proved negative to this time.

Latent shoe-bottom impression was recovered from the front bannister post and appears to be of the ~~same~~ same general design as the suspect's shoes. However a comparison is impossible due to lack of detail and smallness of lift. Photographs were made of impression and location documented.

All latent lifts are preserved and listed on separate sheets/envelops.

May 10, 1976: Articles of clothing were obtained from suspect and these were examined and tagged for evidence. (Gloves/jacket/and toboggan)

Also, matchbooks were recovered from vehicle of suspect to be used for evidential purposes.

A sample of head-hair and a sample of pubic hair was obtained from suspect to aid in evidence processing.

The following is a summary of items submitted by hand to the SBI laboratory on May 11, 1976 for analysis and examination by Chemists in their lab:
Suspect's jacket, to be analyzed for presence of paint, carpet fibers, or hair of victim.

Suspect's Toboggan, same analysis as jacket

Suspect's Gloves, Same analysis as jacket

Sample of paint obtained from various locations on residence of victim.

Sample of carpet fibers from the den and the hallway areas of the victim's residence.

Sample of the victim's head and pubic hair to be used for analysis involving clothes of suspect.

Sample of the suspect's hair (head and pubic) to be used for analysis of same 1 on clothing of victim.

Latent shoe-bottom impression to be compared with suspect's shoes.

Matchbooks taken from suspect's vehicle, to be ~~xxx~~ compared with matches found in residence on night of crime.

(Examination)

Type analysis requested: Comparison of suspect's clothes to ascertain if particles of paint from victim's residence or fibers of victim's carpet or hair of victim is in/on clothing.

Analysis of burned matches and matchbooks for possible identification of origin of burned matches.

Examination of latent shoe-bottom impression for possible identification with suspect's shoes.

Examination of victim's clothes for presence of head and/or pubic hairs of suspect in or on clothing.

All items of evidence have been examined by me and marked as to place of recovery and case number with my initials as an identifying mark. Those items which have been submitted to the SBI laboratory for chemical analysis were sent under my control and will be returned to my control. Items examined by me and not forwarded to the ChemLab, have been properly locked for evidence security.

Summary of Latent Evidence Work and Photography conducted in relation to the rape of Mrs. Sarah Judson Bost and the burglary of her residence on April 25, 1976.

This narrative is intended to show what type work was done and on which dates evidence was collected and processed.

April 25, 1976 (10:32 P.M.) Crime scene observed by this officer and the usual notes made as to location of articles and general condition of scene. Crime scene photographs (Black & White) were made by this officer with emphasis on the downstairs of the residence, front upstairs bedroom, and the downspout located at the rear of the residence between the back door and the rear bedroom window. These negatives were processed and printed and are retained for court uses.

Further, the victim's clothing was collected and marked, as was other relative items from the interior of the residence. The crime scene was processed for latent prints of value, using conventional methods of dusting and lifting. Numerous prints were lifted, with some being eliminated by this officer as those of the victim, Mrs. Bost. (Note: Mrs. Bost's known prints were obtained from her at Cabarrus Memorial Hospital by this officer for elimination purposes.)

A general and specific crime scene search was conducted with emphasis on the upstairs bedroom window area and the area of the struggle on the first floor of the residence.

All items collected were properly marked and preserved.

Subsequent crime scene investigations were made on the days on 26, 27, 28 April. On these occasions further processing of walls, doors, and more general areas of the residence was conducted. Also, additional photographs were made for the purpose of preparing a photograph lay-out for court use with emphasis on the physical structure of the house and the surrounding area.

Further examination of the exterior of the residence revealed a latent shoe-bottom impression located on the column at the left of the front steps of the house. This impression was dusted and photographed "in place" and was then lifted using a conventional hinged fingerprint lifter. This latent lift was properly marked and preserved for examination by this officer and latent evidence expert of the State Bureau of Investigation. A specific crime scene investigation of this column revealed that shoe bottom impressions were visible on and about the column and railing. However, lifting of further impressions proved impossible due to the flaking of the exterior paint and the amount of dust and dirt on the structure itself.

May 10, 1976: On this date this officer took shoe bottom impressions from the shoes of Ronnie Long who was being questioned at the Concord Police Department. These inked impressions were used in the examination of the latent lift recovered at the crime scene (column). (Note: This officer conducted an examination of the latent lift and the known impressions of Long's shoe bottoms and then submitted these items to the SBI Laboratory for a like examination by the SBI Latent Evidence Technician.) Both, oral and written results were obtained, with those results being that the shoes worn by Ronnie Long could have made the latent impression recovered by this officer.

Certain articles of clothing belonging to Ronnie Long were collected by this Officer and held for investigative uses; including the shoes from which the inked impressions were obtained.

All articles which have been submitted to the SBI Laboratory and those items which have been examined by this officer are now in the custody of this officer and are held for court usage.
