Week 12 created some separation in the pack. While not an easy week with the average correct being 8.06, Glyn Bethune flexed her prognosticating muscles and stretched her lead to 3 games over the nearest competitor. She will be tough to catch with only 1 week left in the regular season and all the bowls and playoffs to come. Jerry Jackson slides into 2nd alone while David Rankin is 3rd, Tony Myers is 4th and the trio of Chip Chase, Larry Gamble and Lee Glaze are all T5 but are now 6 games back. We have only 1 week left in the regular season and all the bowls / playoffs to pick. Will Glyn play it safe or not? She's had 6 consecutive weeks with double digit wins! The Top 20 after Week 12 are:
