

Orko loves Achi's Grounded Coffee, but his local store doesn't stock it. Turns out, Singapore's duty-free shop has it, it's cheaper than Orko hopes and dreams. The duty-free shop has some special offers too. Only problem is Orko isn't flying anytime soon. He just needs a traveller with a passport... and a heart. ☕✈️ Who knew coffee and travel would mix?

Orko checks Orbit Stork to see if any adventurous traveller is heading near his place through the airport and is ready to grab him some much-needed grounded coffee.

Tash, the traveller, always chasing smiles, agrees to grab Orko's coffee - either for free or for pocket change and ethereal gratitude!!
