2022

Thank you. I sincerely appreciate the cards and gifts upon my 15th Anniversary of Ordination into the Office of the Holy Ministry. I am humbled by your kindness and greatly treasure all of you. I am honored to serve you and pray the Lord continue to grant unto us many years together at Risen Savior.

A Life of Sacrifice, Duty Pastor Weinkauf

All your senses, all your instincts and experience, insist that a cross is bad, and that you must follow your own heart and your own feelings in order to find happiness, joy, success, completeness, and glory in your life. Thus all go crashing into false belief, despair, and other great shame and vice, often without even realizing the danger; while we forget, ignore what the Lord's Word declares.

You have heard Jesus in His response to James and John: "Can you drink the Cup that I must drink? Can you be baptized with My Baptism?" You can. You must. "You will," He says! But how? The answer is there in the way that He describes the glory of His Life and Ministry in the terms of His Holy Sacraments. And to be sure, His Baptism and His Cup really are the heart and center of everything —of all that Jesus does for you, and gives to you, and shares with you.

As Christian -one who has been baptized into Christ, one who drinks from His Cup and eats from His hand -in these gifts Christ freely gives, you are glorified with the greatness of His Holy Cross. Which means that your entire life — everything you are, and all that you do — is now shaped and defined by that same Cross. So whatever you are, whatever you are called to be and do, you live your life and offer up yourself in self-sacrificing love, doing your duty for others, even to death, as needs may be, all for the sake of Christ.

That all begins with and centers in your own vocations and stations in life, as a husband or wife, as a father or mother, a son or daughter, a brother or sister, a worker or student, a citizen or whatever, as well as a member of Risen Savior.

Look for every possible way and means by which you can lay down your life in service to others. That's usually not through heroic and extraordinary deeds of valor, but in the countless details and little things of life, which afford opportunity to love others. Thus you show yourself to be a servant of the Lord who loves you.

The Lord continues to call and send, among His disciples, pastors, as I have had 15 years with you, who will serve His people with His Word and with His Holy Sacraments. So has He called me and ordained me to serve you at His Font and at His Table, here within His House on earth. So does the Son of Man continue to come, not to be served, but to serve, and to give His life for the many.

And so does He call you and gather you to Himself, in order to lift you up in the forgiveness of His Cross, as often as you have fallen down. Here within His Church, He invites you to recline here at His Table, where He serves you, presenting you with His Cup and speaking to you His Words of grace.

You have a life in a Kingdom without end, that in order to find any true happiness, joy, success, completeness, and glory in your life, -only found in a life in Christ, lived out in a life of service, a life of duty, a life of sacrifice for others.

Disguised as an Angel of Light Pastor Cockran

"She had the voice of an angel!"

"The devil is an angel too, you know."

This is a common joke, but one that carries a great truth behind it. Who is the devil? There are many names for him: Satan, the enemy, serpent, dragon, father of lies, adversary, tempter, and the like.

But most accurately to his original nature, the devil is an angel; that is, a now-fallen angel. He even bears in church tradition the angelic name of Lucifer. Appearing in the KJV of Isaiah 14:12 (cf also Luke 10:18), this name is best translated into English as "light-bearer," reflecting the history of the devil once being an angel of light. While the details of the rebellion of the evil angels (i.e. demons) and their leader is kept largely a mystery in the Scriptures, St. Paul warns us that Satan has the capability of disguising himself as he once was: an angel of light (2 Cor 11:14). Likewise in Galatians, Paul says an angel may appear trustworthy, but if he preaches a contrary gospel to that of the Scriptures, "let him be accursed" (Gal 1:8).

While snakes and dragons and red horns would be easily identifiable, the devil works through deception. Be on guard. He often appears as the voice of an innocent angel. The truly innocent angels are the bringers of truly good news. After all, they told the Shepherds about the Christ child and they announced to the women at the tomb Jesus had risen. So also the devil with his temptations sound like good news, but recognize the difference:

"Go look at that website, no one will see. It will feel good."

"You can join in that simple joke, or add to that story about the one who's not here in order to be part of the crowd and accepted."

"You go to church more than everyone I know, so who cares if you miss today? You need the rest."

"Don't tell your neighbor they hurt you. They know what they did. They don't deserve your forgiveness."

Dear baptized child of God, the devil is a liar (Jn 8:44). He will never give what he promises. He may perpetuate the idea that living apart from God and His Law and Gospel is far better, but he speaks according to his nature: he is a liar. Learn to recognize him and his deceptions, so that you can "resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (James 4:7).

He isn't God and will never be God. Thanks be to God, Lucifer is no match for Christ. And to make it clear Satan is condemned, Jesus came to crush his head (Gen. 3:15). The cross is planted into a sinful world and Jesus' crucifixion undoes that old evil foe. So live now like the victors you are. "Pray that you may not enter into temptation" (Lk 22:40). You're not alone. Satan is already finished. He's a snake on his last breath. You have the words of Scripture that reveal him as the liar he is, and you are given a great promise: "God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it." (1 Cor. 10:13).
