Established 25 years ago, this profitable niche welding and fabrication business specializes in heavy equipment fabrication, repair and rebuilding, serving the mining and construction industries. Their services are offered in the shop and in the field. They also fabricate and repair trench safety equipment. On the lighter side, they fabricate custom ornamental iron, railings, and do truck and trailer customization and repairs.

Basically, if it's metal and needs to be welded or repaired, they have the expertise and equipment to handle it. They have a large, well equipped shop with an overhead crane and large capacity forklift, as well as truck and trailer mounted mobile equipment to do field repairs. The owner is willing to stay on if desired – either short or longer term.
