Sustainability & Quality

At Interkayu Nusantara, sustainability is not just a standard — it's our foundation.

We proudly hold KOMO and PEFC certifications, ensuring that all our materials come from responsibly managed forests and meet international environmental and quality standards.

KOMO is a Dutch certification system that focuses on quality, including both materials (like glue) and production processes. It indicates that a product meets strict Dutch and European standards for safety, performance, and quality. Certain KOMO certifications also cover environmental impact.

Our production processes combine eco-conscious methods with modern technology to deliver long-lasting, environmentally friendly wood products for a greener future.
