CONCEPT STATEMENT

Our holistic behavioral health clinic design aims to create a space that nurtures the mind, creates care through community, prioritizes safety, encourages movement, and promotes healing. Through thoughtful space planning, calming colors, and natural elements, we aim to create an environment that supports mental well-being. Safety precautions, such as secure entrances and calming spaces, will ensure a sense of security for patients. The layout will incorporate spaces for movement, such as tranquil areas and outdoor spaces, to promote physical health, stress reduction, and mental clarity. Finally, healing will be fostered through the use of soothing materials, natural light, and therapeutic spaces designed to inspire relaxation and recovery.

PROJECT DRIVERS & WELL STANDARDS

Safety for behavioral health clinics goes much deeper than just security for the clinic, Safety is a crucial factor when considering material selections, spatial adjacencies. Adjacencies are important when coming up with the layout of a clinic because you want to ensure there are no alcoves that could turn into hiding spots. Safety is very important when thinking of the safety and security of staff as well as patients.

The WELL Movement Concept supports positive distraction within treatment, through utilizing movement as a source of increased self-esteem, personal accomplishment, and control within the healthcare environment. Involvement of physical activity in group sessions offers improved mood, concentration, and release of endorphins while engaging with patients alike in personal struggles and future goals. Physical activity between various tasks for facility staff allows for increased productivity while mitigating the effects of stress and emotional health associated with working in healthcare.

Mindful Oasis focuses on functionality and pays attention to the psychological needs of the patients through the WELL Light Concept. Natural light and sun exposure are both associated with improved depressive symptoms along with mood, energy, and sleep quality. Daylight also is proven to reduce the length of stay for patients.

Research has consistently shown that the thoughtful design of a behavioral health clinic, incorporating elements such as soothing colors, natural light, and comfortable spaces, can have a profound impact on patients' healing, promoting a sense of tranquility and emotional well-being. The healing environment supports the WELL Mind Concept.

The WELL Community Concept is a critical component of successful treatment within behavioral health. Community provides a sense of belonging and support to those suffering from a diverse range of anxiety and mood disorders. For individuals struggling with mental health, collaborative care allows for patients to identify health issues through interacting with those alike as well as actively utilize support systems and resources.
