Our Complaints Procedure

If you have any concerns about the way in which your matter is being conducted please raise it in the first instance with the Solicitor dealing with your file to discuss your concerns and we will do our best to resolve any issues at that stage. If the Solicitor is unable to deal with your concern to your satisfaction, you may then ask that the matter be formally investigated under our Complaints Procedure.

Stage 1

If your concern has not been addressed to your satisfaction by your Solicitor then please write to or email our Office Manager, Dusty Blackburn, at the same postal address or to her private email address dustyblackburn@hargreavesgilman.com and she will conduct an independent investigation of your complaint. Your complaint will be acknowledged within 3 working days and a written response will be provided within 28 calendar days of full details of your complaint being received.

Stage 2

If your complaint remains unresolved, it will, at your request, be escalated to Deborah Millington who is the Designated Complaints Handling Director. The complaint will be reviewed and further investigations may be carried out, if deemed necessary. We will write to you within 28 calendar days of receiving your request for review by Deborah and confirm our final position on your complaint and explain our reasons.

We have eight weeks to consider your complaint.

If we are unable to meet any of the timescales given to you we will let you know and explain why.

You will not be charged for our work investigating a complaint made by you.

If because of a special need, you require us to deal with your complaint or communicate with you in a particular way please let us know so that in as far as is practicable, this may be accommodated.

Following our final response and if you still feel that your complaint has not been satisfactorily resolved, you may have the right to complain to the Legal Ombudsman. They will look at your complaint independently and it will not affect how we handle your case.

Before accepting a complaint for investigation, the Legal Ombudsman will check that you have tried to resolve your complaint with us first. If you have, then you must take your complaint to the Legal Ombudsman:

- Within six months of receiving a final response from us to your complaint and
- No more than one year from the date of act/omission; or
- No more than one year from when you should reasonably have known there was cause for complaint.

The Legal Ombudsman cannot deal with all complaints and will only deal with complaints from members of the public, certain very small businesses, charities, clubs and trusts. The Legal Ombudsman will tell you whether they are able to deal with your complaint.
