A Mobile App on a Mission

Through our partnership with TRAC-2, we are bringing our virtual mental health & counseling services to life. DDAAT-App! Mentoring in the Moment @ TRAC-2's planned 51 campuses across the US & Puerto Rico create highly engaging experience environments allowing for expanded vocational training areas requiring in-person training, mentoring & counseling services.

Our virtual & in-person participants show higher engagement, miss fewer counseling appointments, and ultimately find better success of interventions through increased engagement. Mentoring occurs in a variety of settings allowing teens to select from

- Mentoring thru Music
- Mentoring thru Athletics
- Mentoring thru Entrepreneurship
- Fashion Design
- Digital Graphics & Web Design
- Art & Spoken Word
- Personal Fitness & Nutrition
- Traditional Vocational Training (Construction, HVAC, Electrician, Plumbing)

DDAAT-App! (Digi-Dad Advice Anytime) The Nation's 1st Community-Wide Intervention Strategy addressing the Absentee Father Crisis, COVID Isolation, and teen & young adult mental health support system. Teen & Young Adult Mental Health

We are a mobile app on a mission to help reduce teen & young adult bullying, depression & skyrocketing teen suicide rates through innovative technology, collaboration, & community engagement.

DDAAT-App helps teens & young adults navigate the transition into adulthood. Through our unique collaborative alliance, DDAAT-App! is more than an app. It's a mental health support platform delivering an on-demand life skills & mental health topics video library, career exploration, vocational training, mentoring, counseling, & wrap around support & reinforcement services to the fingertips. Teens learn strategies to help manage emotions, make sound decisions, and earn vocational certificates in the their desired career path ultimately emerging as engaged community members..

DDAAT-App! is a new mobile application created by our founder, Chanda L. Spates, following her son's crisis with bullying, gang activity in his school, ultimately contributing to his own suicide attempt. When her son attributed his suicide attempt in part to the inability of reaching a father figure for advice on handling the bullying he was facing, DDAAT-App! was born. Today DDAAT-App! offers the nation's first Community-Wide behavior intervention strategy addressing the absent father crisis, COVID Isolation, and skyrocketing Teen Suicide Rates by supporting teen & young adult mental health.

DDAAT-APP! is prepared for integration of the new federal 988 Suicide & Mental Health Emergency Number's upcoming National Launch 7/16/2022.

In response to the recent declaration of Teen Suicide as a national emergency, DDAAT-APP! stands ready to answer the call with our own call for ALL-Hands-On-Deck!
