SHINEY NEW CADILLAC!

Calgary - Corey Taillon, captain of the UHL Cadillac Cossacks did what many thought to be the impossible. Taillon awarded the Player of the Game medallion to new UHLer defenseman Richard Horbachewski.

Horbachewski, known for his towering presence on and off the ice, was stunned at the award after Horbachewski felt that his skates were dull and caused him to trip over the blueline on many occasions.

Following the game, Chairman of the MMA Hard Knocks Ultimate Fighter called to see the availability of Horbachewski after this story was leaked to social media.

Horbachewski was last seen pounding a Pilsner celebrating his life long dream of being UHL Player of the Game.

UHL FREE AGENT PUTS ON A CLINIC IN FRONT OF FOUR ENTHUSIASTIC FANS

Westside Rec, AB – In an unprecedented call, the UHL Commish was put under pressure to allow Free Agent Nick Josephs to play in Sunday's night matchup with his siblings. Not long after, Josephs was given the go-ahead by the Commish to play for the Fightin' Cossacks AND the Cadillac Cossacks to go on and score 7 unanswered goals.

The same applied to Free Agent Evan Ritchie, who flew in from the Armpit of Alberta (Edmonton) to play in the early game. Ritchie, currently in medical school, did not do so well in the scoring department as he was surprisingly put on defense by Kubies Captain Peter Ewanchyna. "What a waste of talented Resources" said Ritchie. "I don't know if I want to come back to the UHL after that poor decision by the captain".

Josephs won the Player of the Game for the Fightin' Cossacks and was awarded the infamous Fightin' Gloves of the team.

PATRICIAN MAKES A UHL STATEMENT IN NET WITH STUNNING PERFORMANCE

Calgary, Alberta – UHL newcomer Jenna “iron-woman” Patrician put on a brilliant performance Sunday night making save after save against two of the top teams, the Kubies and the Fightin’ Cossacks.

Patrician, with rights currently held by Southern Alberta Institute of Technology (SAIT), joined the UHL in the off-season to stay in top game-level condition. She even managed to keep Even Ritchie off the scoreboard as he was unexpectedly placed on defense by Kubie Captain Peter Ewanchyna.

Patrician plans to complete the UHL season with driving hopes to become a permanent fixture between the pipes. Currently her goals against average in 2.24 and is tied for 1st overall with 9 wins and 3 losses.

FAMILY AFFAIR CONSIDERS OPENING HAIR SALON

Westhills, AB – Two generations of Josephs hit the ice to engage in a Battle of the Best as all three children of UHL legend Ron Josephs played against their creator in a winning cause.

Ron Josephs (seen above in white), was dumbfounded to see all three of his talented children come at him like a freight train as they all played on one attacking line for the Fightin’ Cossacks. Following the game, Josephs figured he couldn’t keep up to his speedy offspring, so he has decided to open a hair salon after this picture was taken to avoid additional embarrassing pictures as illustrated above.

Meanwhile, after using a flat-iron on his hair, Josephs realized that it was likely the only time he could play with, or against, his children as Andy Josephs (far left) is away travelling the world until mid-June, and Nick (far right) is back to work in the middle of nowhere for an extended period of time. Katy (Red Gloves), will be playing against her dad on May 28th.

BENCH BOSS LOSES HIS COOL

Dressing Room #3, AB – Ukrainian bench boss, Greg Bobyn lost his temper late Sunday night as he saw his Cadillac Cossacks get trampled by the Golden Knights 13-6.

Bobyn, known for his light-hearted temperament, snapped and lost his perogies, at a non-call on the ice whereby he was seen slamming the Official UHL Scorecard Tracking Device on the rafters above the players bench to destroy the popular tracking tool.

Bobyn later apologized to the Commish for destroying the property of the UHL, and promised to be calm at the next game when he faces off against returning bench boss Adrian Sakundiak. Sakundiak is rumored to be making his return the UHL as a coach instead of a player.

Sakundiak has no idea this is happening, but maybe this article will make it happen?

PLAYERS SAY FAREWELL FOR MID-SEASON CONDITIONING BREAK

Calgary – Mid-season in Calgary has fast approached, and the UHL Players and Agents said farewell to each other as teams take a well needed break for conditioning. No games have been scheduled for a two week period in order to allow players to get conditioned in their quest for the infamous Cossack Cup in late June.

Players will be taking this mandatory break whether they like it or not, and will return to the ice on May 28th when last place Cadillac Cossacks face off against the Kubie Cossacks in the early match. The late game sees the league leading Golden Knights take on the Fightin' Cossacks, who are currently tied for second place with the Kubies with 51 points.

The high-flying Golden Knights, led by senior citizen Mark Ewanchyna, have 54 points to keep top-spot in this tight season of entertaining play.

Ewanchyna is offering 10% off all UHL apparel.

FANS SALUTE UHL PLAYERS FOR A NIGHT OF ENTERTAINMENT

Fans lined up at the doors to see their Ukrainian heroes play in their quest for the coveted Cossack Kup. Following the game, a player was seen saluting the crowd (seen below) to thank them for their committed attendance. Reports are that these fans can't wait for the second half of the season to commence on May 28th so they plan to meet at the local Tim Hortons to stay in the groove.

FORMER CADILLAC PLAYER of the GAME CHALLENGES EVERYONE!

Calgary, AB – UHL social media UkeBook and InstaUke report that Alex Babichuk is on a mission to get his team back into contention when the season commences on May 28th. Babichuk, known for his speedy yellow pants, is tied for 8th overall in the scoring race with 6 goals and two-call-ups.

Babichuk, son of UHL enforcer Kelly Babichuk, was caught on camera (seen above showing off the Award) made a statement to the UHL Weekly saying "I've had enough of our mediocre play, and its time to play the way we know we can play, and that's with aggression, passion and desire to win. And, to add to that, if I hear another person say our team is last, or is not scoring, or we suck, I will personally take them on at the bike racks at the local school and make a statement of my own!"

Cadillacs are currently tied for 3rd place and are 4th place overall in the UHL.
