THANK YOU & GOOD LUCK IN SAUDI ARABI RILEY SIROISHKA

RIYADH, Saudi Arabi – UHL star Riley Siroishka is about to change his life by taking on a small project in Saudi Arabia. Riley, known for his smooth play on the ice, and his smooth runway design and engineering, is about to hop on a Jet for an 18-hour flight across the world to start his new job.

Siroishka is relocating to Saudi Arabia to engineer and construct one of the world's biggest airports. Located in Riyadh, King Salman International Airport will boast six massive parallel runways and is expected to see 120 million passengers per year, making it the largest in the world in terms of passenger numbers. Riley was brought in to engineer and design the runway system of this massive project.

While the UHL did everything in its power to keep Siroishka in Calgary with the League, he couldn't resist the torturing heat, and the need to help design the 57 square km airport runway system. Set to open in 2030, the UHL anticipates Siroishka will return to the league (after the project is complete) wearing solid gold skates, using a solid gold stick, and may be eligible to play in the Old Guys All-Star game.

With the average temperature in Saudi Arabi being 36 degrees Celsius, we can only assume that Riley will be packing his SPF 200 to ensure is Canadian features are left unchanged.

GOOD LUCK RILEY!

TSOKOLENKO MISSES 2ND GAME IN A ROW BY CHECKING THE WRONG SCHEDULE

UHL WORLD HEADQUARTERS – UHL newcomer Yurii Tsokolenko is having fun in the UHL, however knowing when his team is playing is not so easy and not so fun!

Borscht Boilers winger Tsokolenko is in his second year with the UHL, and while his English is improving dramatically, his time management has been an issue. Boilers Captain Ryan Patrician commented “yeah, Yurii plays hard on the ice when he shows up on time, but we need to help him read the right schedule. We know his heart is all-in, so we will work with Yurii to familiarize himself with the Schedule, the Website, and the ability to have 2 beers after the game instead of just one. These are key things to our team, and if we want to win the Cossack Kup, we need Yurii there!”

This portion of the Newsletter is just filler. However, after more than 26 years of running the UHL, Commissioner Ron Bobyn finally learned how to run the scoreboard. Yep, he did! With the help of UHL DJ Christian Taillon, Bobyn learned which buttons to push, and which not to push. Kinda like when Mike Siroishka gets a goal, he knows when to NOT add a goal to the scoreboard. Bobyn, who was forced into retirement after serious health issues, says he is happy with his new role as puck-boy, scorekeeper, Web designer and motivational speaker.

KUBIE KRUSHERS WELCOME BACK UCHACZ

Dressing Room #Fore – League leading Kubie Krushers added some more scoring punch with the addition of Uchacz. No, not the old man Uchacz, but young gun Bennett Uchacz.

Bennett, son of Chiropractor Greg Uchacz, made his return to the UHL Sunday night by getting one goal and 4 assists against the Cabbage Rollers. After one game, he is already just one goal shy of tying his dad in the goal scoring race, and his dad has played 5 games to-date! Clearly talent in a family can start with any generation.

Calgary, Canada – The UHL has authorized a first of its kind... an Old versus Old and a Young versus Young game whereby fans will be on the edge of their seats as they see their favorite UHL players battle it out to prove who is the best in the UHL.

The early game will see the Young players in the UHL take on each other to show off their skills, speed and power. In the late game, fans will be mesmerized by the Old players showing off what the UHL is all about... and that is fun, entertaining, slow-paced hockey.

Prior to these epic games, the UHL will host a BBQ in the parking lot from 6:00pm-7:00pm where ALL PLAYERS are expected to attend.

POST-GAME TREATS ARE HEATING UP IN THE UHL AND THEY ARE FINGER LICKIN' GOOD!

VISITORS DRESSING ROOM –
Kubie Krushers are not only winning on the ice, but they are also winning in the food service industry too!

It goes without saying that the UHL is known for its amazing entertaining hockey on the ice, but it has also become a place to come and feast in the dressing room after the game. Following game #6, Krushers D-man Greg Bulych provided the team with some knock-out chicken wings for all his team to devour. Nothing like licking your fingers following a sweaty hockey game and wiping the sauce on your jersey.

The UHL food and beverage department (“UFBD”) strongly encourages all teams to partake in this tradition to help bring the players together after a hard-fought battle on the ice.

Ever heard of wet-wipes or Lysol wipes? haha

Leaf's Hire New Leader

Center of the Universe, Ont. – It's been 56 years since the Leafs last won the other trophy, known as the Stanley Cup, which is often confused with the Cossack Kup, so they brought is a new leader to try and win again.

In an unexpected turn of events, Justin Trudeau was named the new head coach of the Toronto Maple Laughs this week. Trudeau, known for his stupid leadership, horrible rules, poor decisions, careless use of finances, and is an overall dink, was pleased to be named head coach.

In a statement from Trudeau this morning, he said "I know I can continue to run this team into the ground, just like I did with Canada. It's actually quite easy. All I need to do is tax all the Players, allow all team members to carry a gun, and they will look after my job all on its own". Trudeau first business decision will be to change to Logo of the team to raise awareness.

TYSOWSKI GETS MORE BREAKAWAYS THAN LETTERS IN HIS LAST NAME

Westside Rec. Centre – Week #6 – UHL icon and legend Joe Tysowski had the game of his life on Sunday night for the Kubie Krushers getting the chance to score with numerous breakaway's.

Tysowski was last seen skating like a figure skater in the 3rd period as he breaks in all alone to only hit the boards. However, with an unprecedented 9 clear breakaways, Tysowski did manage to score on three of those breakaway against a defenseless Cabbage Rolling team.

His selfish and cherry-picking scoring punch shot him up the ladder in the goal scoring race landing him into 13th overall after 6 weeks of play.

Well done, Joe. Keep the tradition of the UHL going with your entertaining plays!

UHL TAKES A WEEK OFF FOR PLAYER CONDITIONING

All players were given the week off for conditioning and will return to the ice on Sunday May 26th.

During this break, UHL conditioning coach Vic Ferrari plans to work with all players over the week ensuring they all maintain their daily input of 12 perogies, 8 cabbage rolls, a bowl of borscht and a ring of Kolbassa. A glob of Sour Cream is optional as the dairy makes the players poop too much.
