PEST CONTROL INSULATION

Heritage Pest Management of Wine Country now offers Pest Control Insulation! This insulation is a thermally and acoustically superior insulation product that is environmentally sensitive while permanently controlling pests. It is made principally from recycled paper that is diverted from landfills.

About the process:

Schedule a consultation with us! We will evaluate the current condition of you attic. Measure the amount of existing insulation. Note any potential entry points to rodents that need to be sealed up prior to installation. Then, you will be provided a quote within the next 48 hours or less! Once you have approved the quote we will work around your schedule to have our team come out and perform your new attic insulation install.
