Please note that this is NOT the place to ask for online trades. For that, please use the Online Play forum. View source Pokémon Reborn is a fangame created by Amethyst and Chasing Selene using RPG Maker XP and the Pokémon Essentials Starter Kit. Originally based on the events and characters of an in-community online league, it has since developed into an expansive game that has even inspired other fangames like Pokémon Rejuvenation, Pokémon Desolation, Pokémon Empire, and Pokémon Redemption. This wiki is user-maintained and strives to list everything to know about Pokémon Reborn. Please be aware that Pokémon Reborn does contain sensitive content that may be triggering for some players. Efforts are taken to alert Wikia readers of potential triggers, but caution is still advised. WARNING: This wiki is currently still being updated for E19.

Field Effects — Field Effects are a new battle mechanic that offer an exciting new side to battles and can lead to fun and unusual strategies! An Expansive Adventure — All 807 Pokémon through Generation 7 can be found in-game without trading. All 21 starters are available to choose from, and the upcoming journey spans across 18 Gym Battles— one for every type— and then even more beyond that... Special Encounters — Pokémon in the Reborn region don't have as many grassy areas to hide in, so not many are found the usual way. That doesn't mean you get less Pokémon, though— it just means you have more fun finding them! Now, instead of just tromping through grass, you can discover Pokémon in secret locations, rescue them from troubling situations, or receive them as special gifts! Online Features — Reborn boasts fully functional online servers for battling against friends and randoms in both singles and doubles with Field Effects of your choice, and friend-to-friend trading as well as time-delayed Wondertrades. The servers are not perfect, but most users will find them playable. Better Shinies — Tired of having your favorite Pokémon's shiny look almost identical to its regular one? Reborn's shinies are fully customized and also easier to find, at around 1.07% of encounters being shiny. Spoiler warning! This wiki contains spoilers about the game! Read at your own discretion.
