Resource Central: Garden in a Box

Garden-in-a-Box kits offered by Resource Central make low-water gardening easy. Each kit offers a selection of native and drought-resistant plants that are attractive to local pollinators like bees and butterflies, professionally designed planting maps with instructions and watering recommendations.

Kits are still in stock for the Fall planting season for pickup in August and September. Visit resourcecentral.org/gardens/shop to see the garden styles and availability or scan the QR code:

Local Cottonwood resident Linda has several established gardens from past Resource Central Garden-in-a-Box sales. The garden pictured below is from the Colors of Colorado kit sold in 2018, with other plants added through the years from other kits such as: Alpine Glow (2019), Greatest Hits (2021) and Curbside Charm (2022) and some added annuals like petunias.
