

Biblical References (Acts 13:13-52)

Throughout his sermon, Paul frequently references passages from both the Old and New Testaments. Infact, the way Luke summarizes Paul's sermon, almost every line and phrase in the opening portions have a direct reference to other chapters and verses of the Bible. Referencing so many other verses demonstrates the scriptural mastery of Paul and the dedicated reporting of Luke. This scriptural mastery serves as a model for all later Christians.

Below you see the verses quoted on the left and blanks on the right. Search through the Bible (not Google) to find the references. Some of the more obscure references are filled in as an example. The answer may be a specific verse, or chapter or books or even several books in the Bible.
