Proceeding from the belief that President Trump is the Cyrus for the Israelites of our day, then, the essential task is in the preparation for the exodus.

It would be fitting to designate separate space for Judah of Alabama at all U.S. Military facilities around the world. The normal flow of traffic should not have a route near the designated space. The facilities must have all updated communication equipment for a unified separate system for exodus coordination.

The President should select a point person to contact regional officers about the plan of action. Once made, the point person will interface with the office of Judah of Alabama.

Funding should be allocated immediately through an Executive Order for the Exodus Centers nationally and internationally. A short window of time will be opened for preparation. By the end of January 2019, half of the systems should be in place and ready for operational training.
