We all have knowledge. It is derived from our formal education, our work, our experiences, and our overall interests. Education makes us knowledgeable and from that, we can do things and do them better.

We are lucky to have some great educational facilities in our area. Nichols Career Center in Jefferson City, Missouri State Technical College in Linn, and Lake Career and Technical College in Camdenton, all provide a very convenient venue for students to learn about automotive technology, repair, and body and paint.

From our own education, we know that old cars need to be repaired, saved, and preserved. We want kids to get excited about working on cars. Education is expensive.

Last year's scholarship recipients were Ethen Bosch (Billy Bonnot's grandson) for $1000 (left) and Nikolas Trenary for $500 (right).

Let us help educate some kids that like cars as much as we do. At our March 28 (6pm) meeting at the Cole County Sheriff's Department classroom (350 East High Street), we will spend some time on the MMOCC Scholarship. We will hear from this year's Scholarship Committee and we will have our annual auction to add money to the Scholarship Fund.

We can make automotive education a reality for a student and we can get kids excited about old cars.

At the 5 points intersection. The original Dutch Mill Mkt in 1941. This was torn dow and replaced with a brick structure in 1950. The cars shown are parked on Walnut St and the picture is looking North towards the river. The big white house is facing McCarty St and sits across the street from the Little Nells Diner.

Jefferson City's High Street facing east toward Madison Street. Central Bank is the tall building in the distance on the left.

Ricky Mendez has a new project...a 1955 Chevy 2 door that has not been on the street since 1989. It belonged to a friend in Rolla. Stop by Governor Motors and check it out... and while you are there, buy a vehicle!

MARCH 8, 1950: VW bus, icon of counterculture movement, goes into production

Volkswagen, maker of the Beetle automobile, expands its product offerings to include a microbus. Known officially as the Volkswagen Type 2 (the Beetle was the Type 1) or the Transporter, the bus was a favorite mode of transportation for hippies in the U.S. during the 1960s and became an icon of the American counterculture movement.

The VW bus was reportedly the brainchild of Dutch businessman Ben Pon, an importer of Beetles to the Netherlands, who saw a market for a small bus and in 1947 sketched out his concept. Volkswagen engineers further developed the idea and in March 1950, the vehicle, with its boxy, utilitarian shape and rear engine, went into production.

The bus eventually collected a number of nicknames, including the “Combi” (for combined-use vehicle) and the “Splittie” (for its split windshield); in Germany it was known as the “Bulli.” In the U.S., it was referred to by some as a hippie van or bus because it was used to transport groups of young people and their camping gear and other supplies to concerts and anti-war rallies. Some owners painted colorful murals on their buses and replaced the VW logo on the front with a peace symbol.

MMOCC Bylaws (last amended- 27 April 1995):

Article II - Purpose: The purpose of this club is to unite antique and special interest car owners and enthusiasts who are interested in restoring and maintaining their car in a manner to attract prestige and respect within the community. To serve as a medium of exchange of ideas, information, and parts for admirers of antique, classic and special interest autos. To aid them in their efforts to restore, preserve and exhibit the car in its original likeness and to help keep automotive history alive. The club shall be non-commercial, non-partisan, and non-sectarian.

Article III - Members: Requirements for membership shall not insist upon the actual possession of an antique car, but merely an interest in the cars and a desire to take part in club activities .
