

What is the Puppy Coach program?

After 20+ years of training puppies and dogs, we developed a program that's been more successful than the traditional classes using methods we borrowed from our service dog training programs.

This new program was designed to NOT overwhelm your puppy training in chaotic group settings, but to set them up for success—and to coach you on how to do it as well.

The Puppy Coach program was designed to address any puppy issues such as biting, jumping, chewing, barking, housebreaking, and more as well as offering a few basic commands we think you need to have a well-behaved canine!

We have included Certified Puppy Coaches to monitor playdates as well as teach critical play skills. Play must be shaped to prevent aggressive play styles later in life that could lead to dog fights. We will be happy to teach you how to guide your pup like we do at daycare.

Puppies for this program must be 7-16 weeks old and have 1 round of vaccines 7 days before training as well as wormed by a licensed veterinarian. They should be healthy puppies and have not been exposed to Parvo or sickly. Proof of vaccines are required.

Why early socialization and training are so important.

Puppies have a socialization window from 7-16 weeks (the first 3 months) after they leave their birth mom. Dr. Ian Dunbar, Veterinarian, and Behaviorist, calls this the Secondary Socialization window. Dr. Dunbar states this is the MOST critical stage of development where puppies learn how to accept new environments, also be handled by a veterinarian and groomer, and learn to be social with other animals, people, and children.

Lack of early and proper socialization has been linked to behavioral euthanasia later in a dog's life.

To start the early program Dr. Dunbar recommends at least 1 round of vaccines and deworming 7 days before the start of training. We recommend taking your veterinarian's advice for your puppy based on your puppy's health and needs.

We have been in business for over 20 years working with shelter and rescued dogs, pet dogs, performance dogs, service and therapy dogs.

We love this new puppy program as we have already seen great results!
