

Sharon Middleton McGhee

Sharon is the Minority, Women, Small Business Administration Coordinator for the Charleston County Aviation Authority, where she is responsible for building relationships and partnerships with minority, women-owned, small businesses, non-profits, private, governmental and educational institutions and managing the college internship program. In the past she served as the Director of Human Resources at the Aviation Authority for 17 years. Sharon is also the President of SLMM Enterprises, LLC where she helps small businesses with their human resources needs, coaching and business matchmaker. She is also an Adjunct Professor for College of Charleston.

Sharon holds a B.S. in Business Administration-Management from Coastal Carolina University and a M.A. in Management and Leadership from Liberty University. She is a doctoral candidate working towards her Ph.D. in Industrial/Organizational Psychology at Northcentral University. She holds the designation of PHR from HRCI and SHRM-CP from the Society of Human Resources Management. Sharon's a graduate of Furman University's Diversity Leadership Initiative, a graduate of The Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce Leadership Charleston program and a graduate of Leadership South Carolina. She's a facilitator for The Charleston Illumination Project and a founding member of the South Carolina Airports Coalition.