

Dr. Taryn Rose

In 1998 orthopedic surgeon Dr. Taryn Rose married fashion and function and changed the footwear industry forever with the launch of Taryn Rose. A high heel lover herself, Taryn saw a need to combine her knowledge of foot biomechanics and passion for aesthetics to support women everywhere with beautiful, comfortable shoes. Taryn independently grew her luxury footwear brand into a $40M business, with Taryn Rose stores as well as boutique and department store retailers throughout the world. Dr. Rose sold the company in 2008, taking time re-center, to enjoy her family, travel the world, get involved in the women in business community, and entertain her entrepreneurial mind with new venture concepts. She has partnered with Global Brands Group for their Fall 2017 relaunch of the Taryn Rose brand as a brand spokesperson, creative spirit, and strategic advisor. Taryn Rose has been featured across a variety of media including Oprah, CNN, TODAY, New York Times, Wall Street Journal, People, Entrepreneur, InStyle, Elle, Good Morning America and more. Born in Vietnam, Taryn and her family fled their home at the height of the Vietnam War, landing first in Arkansas and eventually making her way to Los Angeles. Taryn currently resides in Beverly Hills.
