

In a Game

Words & Music
By Johnny Reed

I met you in a game, you think you know who I am
It's just my avatar, my digital identity

Just try and touch my hand, then I think you'll understand
I live just outside of reality, it's an illusion but it's all I need

I'll meet you in a virtual world, yeah
I'll love you in a digital way

I live a shadow life, to escape this life I'm in
I create my own reality, it's my second life and I'll do as I please

I'm livin' in a game, but when it gets too familiar, then I re-invent myself
And I just change my avatar, and then I'm even better than before

I'll meet you in a virtual world now
I'll love you in a digital way, in a game, we just exist in this game

You know we can't be lovers, you know I don't exist in your reality
No matter how long we play,
Our love can only exist in a game
I guess we're lost in this game, in this game, in a game

Yeah, I met you in a game, but I can't see you any more
Did you change your avatar, or did you go back to your real life

Well I guess we all need a break, now do you know the road to take
To step out of your reality, jump in the game and you can be with me

I'll meet you in a virtual world now
I'll love you in a digital way, in a game
We just exist in this game
Yeah, in a game, in a game, I'm living in a game, in a game
