

Where Your Heart Lives

Words & Music

By Johnny Reed

Better turn your head around, do you know where your heart lives
Better put your money down, yeah, spend your time where your love is

Cause every day we're livin' regular lives,
But do you believe that you're livin' a lie
We need an alternate reality, to take our dreams and set them free
So many livin' their lives, but they never ask why

It's your total escape plan, you can be who you want to
You only go around once, so put your life where your love is

You can dance to the drums you hear, 'cause you know where your heart is You're never gonna forget, always remember where your heart lives,
Where does your heart live, where does your heart live,
Where does your heart live

You need an alternate reality, to help you see and let you breathe
We keep livin' our lives, and never, ever, ever know why
Before you go crazy, and you implode
Escape your reality, and put your life where your love is

Well you can dress in color or you can dress in black
Anything you want, it's your dream, it's your dream
So many dreams run through your head in the night

You need an alternate reality, to make your dreams your destiny
Better turn your head around, put your money where your heart lives, yeah
You only go around once, so put your life where your love is

Now can you tell me where your heart lives
Do you know where your heart is
Where does your heart live, where does your heart live
Where does your heart live, where does your heart live
Where does your heart live
