RAWK DAWG did well in the 2006 Rock City News Awards, competing strongly in the Outstanding Hollywood Band and Outstanding Blues Band categories.

Singer/guitarist Jo Island fronts this balls-to-the-walls four-piece guitar and drums classic rock unit that will put you to mind of Motley Crew, Robin Trower, Bad Company, Steve Marriot and Grand Funk. Jo is a throwback to an earlier time in rock, the kind of a guy who hosts late night jams in darkly lit Sunset Boulevard clubs.

Rawk Dawg has been entered into the 47th Grammy Awards program again with We Only Came To Rock, with submittals in 13 categories including Best Rock Album, Best Rock Song, and Best Rock Performance.

Rawk Dawg released Rock With An Attitude in 2002, then in 2004 released their second LP, We Only Came to Rock, which yielded the college radio hit "In My Mind," which was one of the top 10 singles on college radio that year. The band received Grammy nominations for Best Rock Album, Best Rock Song and Best Rock Performance. They have been featured on the Lollapalooza Tour, sharing a stage with Jane's Addiction and The Donnas.

The band also released a well-received studio improve LP, Raw, which included nine "unpolished gems."

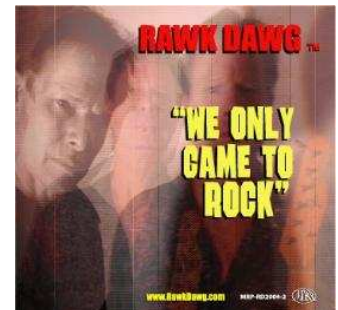

Jo Island has also lent his voice talents to Kong Tones, a mini-soundtrack of the sounds of KING KONG ® that was sponsored by movie director Peter Jackson (King Kong, Lord of the Rings Trilogy). Also lending their talents to that recording were the V-Rex's, Raptors, Natives, and Jungle Drums. The CD was produced to represent sounds from the film and used in association with the marketing of King Kong-related consumer products.
