A Special Event

As small historical societies we all struggle to have the necessary staff to open to the public on a regular basis. And we each have such a unique and truly local story to tell. So to better serve our communities we have organized the FALL FOR HISTORY tour. Saturday October 24th from 9am to 4pm. What makes this so special is that four of our local historical groups will be open the entire Saturday to welcome visitors. We anticipate there will be no admission costs. Just feel free to come.

And because we are all relatively close visitors will able to visit each of the four locations at leisure. Each local group will also provide insight as to other interesting sights and historical gems specific to that area. So a visitor can create their own agenda to revisit any particular area and still have time to stop at the four locations. And the bonus here is that weekend in October should be near peak foliage! Having driven all the connecting routes between the four locations should be absolutely beautiful. And please forward this notice to others. I realize it is short notice but hoping to not miss anyone that would like to attend.

So here are the four participating groups with a snap shot of each as well as the addresses. So fire up your GPS and let's take advantage of this special open house event.
