

Mother Goose Day

Do you know what Cinderella, Sleeping Beauty, Goldilocks and the Three bears, Little Red Riding Hood and Jack and the Beanstalk have in common?

They were all retold by a kind elderly lady known as Mother Goose, who would take us on a wonderful journey of fairy tales and nursery rhymes.

You can celebrate this day by making Humpty Dumpty Eggs - or dressing up like your favourite character from fairy tales!

Dear Child,
draw a goose,
With glasses
and a bonnet,
With a book in
her wings
And the flowers
on it

Harry Potter Day

The Harry Potter series is widely acknowledged to have brought back the children's interest in reading, also known as The Harry Potter Effect.

The author J.K.Rowling showed that children could read long books - really long - should the books spark their interest. Especially if the books combine fantasy and reality. Did you know that many plants that Harry learnt in the course of Herbology are real? What plant names do you remember from the book?

Wordsmith Day

Are you good with words?

Maybe you can tell a story and make people listen, maybe your jokes make people laugh - or maybe you write good essays at school?

If you have replied yes to any of these questions - today we celebrate you!

You know how to use your words creatively and touch people's hearts with them.

One of the greatest wordsmiths of all times is William Shakespeare, who wrote comedies, tragedies and sonnets.

To be, or not to be -
That is the question
But what if we all draw - but draw
with words
Try writing down
a story so that lines
Make shapes like
stars, or cats,
or birds!

The very first movie of the franchise was released in 1977 and quickly became popular.

George Lucas, the director, was influenced by the ideas of Buddhism. The idea of letting go of everything you are afraid to lose is important in Buddhist teachings.

Another great thought expressed by Master Yoda is "Do or do not. There is no try".

If you put in a real effort, you are sure to succeed!

Cartoonist Day

Long before cartoons could move, they lived on paper.

Cartoonists compress complex ideas into simple drawings.

With just a few lines, they can show something funny, surprising, or important. In the 1840s, these drawings got a name: cartoons.

The first animated cartoon character is generally considered to be the stick figure "Fantoche" from 1908 film, Fantasmagorie.

Sometimes one cartoon can start a big conversation.

Do you like cartoons?

Simpsons,

No Diet Day

We all have different bodies - shapes, colours, sizes, weight. There are no bad bodies - all bodies are good!

Today we celebrate healthy attitude to the people's weight and a healthy relationship with food. Food is enjoyment and energy, not guilt or obsession over calculating calories!

Let's focus on healthy eating - not dieting! If you love your body and you want it to stay healthy for a long time, what should you eat?

Let's draw a healthy plate!
Some grains, some fruits, some fish
Let's make it full of colour,
Add meat and veggies -
If you wish!

Red Cross Day

You may know the Red Cross, an organization that helps people in emergencies and difficult times.

But did you know there are actually three symbols of help around the world?

+ Red Cross   C Red Crescent   ◇ Red Crystal
They all mean: help and protection are here.

After seeing wounded soldiers on a battlefield, Swiss man Henry Dunant believed everyone deserved help no matter their side. His idea helped create the Red Cross one of the first humanitarian organizations.

Humanitarian means helping people simply because they are human.

Europe Day

Today we celebrate Peace and Unity in Europe.

Being neighbours is not always easy. And yes... neighbours sometimes fought terrible wars.

After World War II came a bold question:
What if sharing worked better than fighting?

On May 9, 1950, Robert Schuman proposed that European countries share key resources (like coal and steel) instead of competing for them.

That small step helped grow into today's European Union.

Clean Up Your Room

Let's be honest... cleaning is rarely anyone's favourite adventure. But do you know what is exciting?
Finding treasure.

Let's start a 20-Minute Treasure Mission!

Sort your treasures into 4 zones:

Keep Donate Trash / Recycle Mystery Box

Set a timer. Add music. GO!

Dust is not just dirt. It can include: tiny fabric fluff, pollen, soil, pet fur, dead skin cells (yep!)..

And dusty corners may become cozy spots for spiders, who love places where tiny insects visit.

Good news: Most house spiders are harmless they're actually little bug hunters helping with pest control!

Day of Families

Families are important in everyone's life.

People have families, but plants and animals have families, too.

Some plant families might surprise you: the rose family includes roses, peaches, pears, strawberries, and even almonds .

Human families can look very different: big or small, with one parent, many caregivers, grandparents, siblings, or chosen people who love and support us.

Because family is not just about who you live with it's about care, connection, and belonging.

Let's think today
and share
What family means
for you and me
We sometimes fight
Yet we always care
Let's draw

They are around us.

They are blooming in spring, green in summer, red and yellow in fall. They produce oxygen and absorb carbon dioxide.

They give us shade and they are home to wildlife. You gotta love them - they are trees! A couple in Brazil were able to restore a whole forest after planting trees for 20 years.

Volunteers and friends helped them.

Pack Rat Day

Rats are very interesting creatures. They are very smart and are known for their ability to collect small things to use them in nest building.

Pack rat middens (the solidified nests) show what plants and animals used to exist. Scientists use them to study climate change over a thousand years!

People who are called "pack rats" collect too much unnecessary stuff.

How is collecting different from hoarding?
