A photograph of two hikers in a lush, green forest. They are standing on a dirt path, looking at a massive, ancient tree trunk that dominates the center of the frame. The tree has thick, gnarled roots spreading out across the ground. One hiker is wearing a blue shirt and a tan cap, and the other is wearing a grey shirt and a black backpack. The forest is dense with various types of trees and foliage, creating a vibrant green backdrop. The ground is covered in fallen leaves and twigs.

A photograph of a traditional thatched-roof hut nestled in a lush tropical forest. The hut has a steeply pitched roof made of dried palm fronds or similar natural materials. The walls are made of light-colored earth or plaster, with a prominent window featuring vertical wooden slats. The hut is surrounded by dense greenery, including tall trees and various tropical plants in the foreground. The lighting is soft, suggesting late afternoon or early morning.

several weeks, and devoted one entire lecture to the study of amber.

There was a perfect logic to his choice of subject matter. Ames had no interest in the mundane plant products already established in the world economy. His concerns lay with the unknown, the obscure ethnobotanical mysteries that were to be found amid the remnants of ancient traditions. In this

A group of three people are silhouetted against a bright sunset over a wide river. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a lens flare effect. The people are standing on a grassy bank, and one person is operating a camera mounted on a tripod. The scene is peaceful and scenic.
