

FAMILY LAW ACCOUNTING NEWS

February 6, 2018

Join Me For A CLE Class On Using A Forensic Accountant In Your Family Law Case

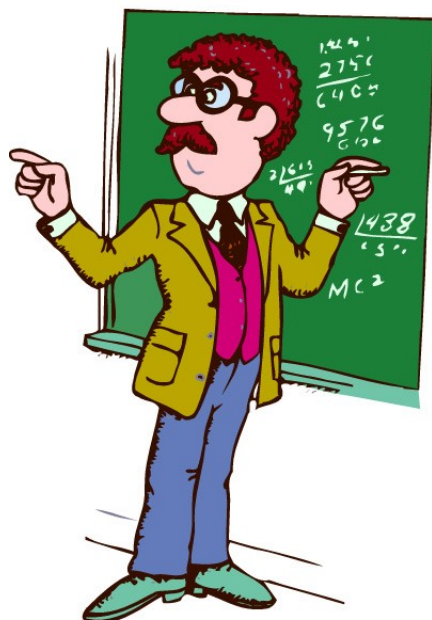

I will be presenting a 3 hour CLE class sponsored by the Arizona Bar:

Utilizing Forensic Accounting in Your Family Law Case

March 1, 2018

9:00am—12:15 pm (Presented at the State Bar Of AZ)

Credits: 3 CLE

The class will cover numerous topics regarding efficiently working with a forensic family law accountant to obtain the very best results for your client.

The goal of the class is for the participants to walk away with a better understanding of how the forensic accountant in a family law matter can identify issues, and while working with the attorney, coordinate an efficient process to address all of the financial issues related to the case.

David Cantor, CPA/ABV, CDFA® has been working almost exclusively in Family Law Accounting since 1990 in both Arizona and California.

He has worked on over 1,000 Family Law cases and has experience in all aspects of Family Law Accounting including Business Valuations, Separate Property Tracings, Calculation of Income for Purposes of Determining Maintenance and Support as well as many other financial issues.

Mr. Cantor has testified in Court over 100 times as an expert witness.

FAMILY LAW ACCOUNTING NEWS

Page -2-

February 6, 2018

- The role of the forensic accountant
- Communication between attorney, expert and client
- Obtaining documents and records
- Identify and address specific assignments such as:
 - Income determination
 - Business valuations
 - Marital Standard of Living
 - Separate property determination
 - Community waste
 - Tax Implications
- Prepare schedules and reports to present the findings
- Trial preparation on the financial issues
- Critiquing the opposing side's reports/schedules

I hope you will join me for this valuable seminar. Registration information can be found on the Arizona Bar website:

Arizona Bar Association

