

Truncated

East Coast Elephants

A Gallery Exhibition by Lucas Petrin

Key

By Foot

By Car

April 6th–April 10th 2020

Opening Reception

April 7th 6:00–9:00 PM

Gallery talk begins at 6:30 PM

Westby Student Art Gallery
 Room 207, Second Floor
 237 Mullica Hill Rd, Glassboro, NJ 08028

Lucas Petrin’s Truncated explores the rise and fall of Proboscideans, a historically prolific group of animals who have almost vanished completely. From humble origins, to the highly specialized elephants of the present, Truncated presents a narrative of meteoric rise and sudden fall into an uncertain future.

Truncated is free and open to the public.
 For visitor parking, see the security gate across from Savitz Hall.

For inquiries, leave a message at 856.275.4612, or email donny@fossilfracas.com
 Show printed by Rowan University’s Print Center, hosted on FossilFracas.com