

YOUNG LADIES

Don't you wanna stop? I know these drugs hurting your head. They can make you go to sleep, make you wanna lay in your bed. Don't you wanna have a future and live a better life instead?

I know you don't want to overdose and end up on the street laying dead. You deserve a better life you don't have to beg. Check into a rehab, you no longer have to stress.

You are a princess turning into a queen, say no to these drugs and live your life drug free. You don't want to get addicted and turn into a fiend. Live your life like a boss and follow all of your dreams. You need to get your education and don't end up like a fool, now this is my poem that is going to inspire you.
