We are your collection of guides, of which there are too many to name.
We have a general message of guidance and discernment for you.

In one sense, discernment is the only skill that is to be developed in any lifetime. After accumulating karma from misidentifying one's self with the body, with sensual pleasures, with external circumstances, obviously the need for discernment becomes self evident. That being said, there's no reason not to let in more joy into those processes which sharpen your discernment.

Discernment in choosing how to feel at any moment. Discernment in choosing which hobbies or activities feel most pleasing to you. Discernment in what sort of experiences you'd like to have in your love life, or discernment in experiences you'd like to have in solitude. All moments are opportunities for you to discern, sometimes gradually, sometimes quickly, who you are.

What impulses or thoughts arise from divine will manifesting themselves as Ginger Glasser? And is there any need to mitigate said divine will? This all a game of discernment, where mastery looks like more and more ease in your life - internally and externally.

So we hope this has been helpful for you. We love you very much.

Amen
