

Sponsor-a-Colony

What is a cat colony?

A cat colony is a group of stray cats that live together. The cats could be feral or friendly, or a mix of both. Often, these colonies begin with only a few individuals, but they can quickly grow to a population of several dozen or more if the cats are not sterilized.

How are the colonies managed?

Typically, a caretaker or team of caretakers will care for and manage the colony. CAT works with these caretakers to get cats TNVR'd (trapped, neutered, vaccinated, returned), provide food, and assist with other medical care. CAT volunteers assist by transporting food to colonies and cats to veterinary clinics.

How can I help?

One of CAT's three major programs is the Pet Retention & Colony Maintenance Program. Through this program, CAT provides medical care and food assistance to approximately 30 cat colonies. The Sponsor-A-Colony program is part of this, where individuals or businesses can help cover the annual expenses to care for and feed a colony of cats!

What does sponsorship entail?

To become a colony sponsor, CAT requests an annual donation of $500 per colony. As a sponsor, you will be honored on our website, social media, and newsletter; you will receive photos of the cats and colony you are sponsoring; and you will receive a gift in the form of a sponsorship certificate.
