ABOUT US

The $3.2 billion global biscotti market lacks low-carb and keto options.

Bistattis fills that gap with our sugar-free, wheat-free recipe containing just 1 net carb per biscotti. We use monkfruit and erythritol to keep them low-glycemic.

That's why we created Bistattis. Inspired by my family's heirloom Italian recipe, Bistattis are sugar-free, wheat-free, and have just 3 net carbs per serving. We use monkfruit and erythritol to keep them low-glycemic. And the star ingredients - almond flour, coconut, pecans, walnuts, and bold flavors like vanilla and orange zest. We also have the vegan version with coconut oil and psyllium husk.

LOVE FOR BISTATTIS

YOU WANT TO EAT THEM ALL

One bite and I felt like I was back in Italy, only healthier and for our keto lifestyle

-Sandra G

THIS IS THE REAL DEAL

I need to have this with my coffee. Since we avoid all sugars, this is the perfect snack for us. I don't buy biscottis except for these ones.

- Carmen K

BETTER THAN THE OTHERS

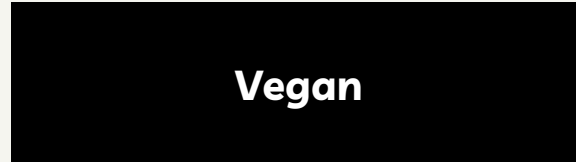

If you are a biscotti lover as I am, you have to try these ones. They are much better than the typical you can buy anywhere.

READY FOR BUSINESS

Keto

Our efficient production process allows us to create Bistattis with attractive margins. Working from my home kitchen under the Florida Cottage Food law, I can produce 32 bags of 4 biscotti each in just 2 hours. With carefully sourced ingredients in bulk and multi-use packaging, my total cost of goods per bag is approximately $5. This includes all organic ingredients, nuts, flours, sweeteners, spices, and packaging. At a retail price of $12 per bag, this provides a 60% margin per unit. Having successfully tested the market at fairs and farmer's markets with an enthusiastic response, we are now ready for the next step - securing funding for commercial production at a copacker facility. This will allow us to scale while maintaining strong profit margins. Conservative sales estimates put us on a path to profitability within the first year. With our delicious family recipe and artisan production abilities, Bistattis is poised to disrupt the biscotti market.
