

An aerial photograph of a cemetery. At the top left, there is a paved area with a small building and a vehicle. The rest of the image is a green lawn with numerous small, white, rectangular grave markers. A large, dark, dense evergreen tree is located in the middle-left section. Two thick red horizontal lines divide the cemetery into three horizontal sections. The top section contains the building and vehicle. The middle section contains the large tree and several grave markers. The bottom section contains several more grave markers and a line of trees along the bottom edge.
