People of God at Holy Love,

It always feels like a whirlwind, like there's never enough time or space or energy or freedom to get everything done during December. It always feels like there's so much left undone; and some that's done, but not the way I'd want it to be; and some that's done well, but the list of the well done stuff isn't nearly long enough.

And when it's time for church to start (or for the party, or for Santa to show up), I almost always feel a little frantic - like I need an extra few minutes (or an extra hour, or an extra day) to make sure everything is the way it should be.

But then, after the frantic whirlwind of stuff left undone and not quite up to par ... after all that comes the calm. One of my favorite feelings comes when it's all done, when everything settles down. The anticipation, preparation, and planning give way to a certain kind of peace that would have felt foreign and inappropriate before. The feeling that things have been taken care of, that everything is the way it should be, and that I can relax for a while is really life-giving.

As a pastor, I feel that freedom to relax most significantly at about 11:30 on Christmas Eve (after the 10:00 pm service is done), and on Easter Sunday at about 12:30 (when all three services are done). It's about then that I feel myself melt into my office chair, and then into a couch when I get home. It's a beautiful thing to feel like everything is done, and that I'm not in charge any more.

The thing is, though, that it would be great if I felt that way all the time. Because that life-giving feeling I get "that things have been taken care of, that everything is the way it should be, and that I can relax for a while ..." ought to be my normal state of being. Because that's the truth that we proclaim as Christians - namely that Jesus has things taken care of, and I should relax and not worry about being in charge of the universe.

Of course, things in the world aren't the way they should be. But the promise embodied for us at Christmas by the Christ Child is the same as the promise pointed to in Revelation 21 - that God is creating a renewed place for us to enjoy the fullness of new life.

Most of the time when I feel that peace that happens for me after Christmas, I remember that all of the work I've been doing has been important to making sure the Christmas story is told well. But that even if I didn't do that work, the story of God's salvation of the world would still be complete. Because it's God who's in charge of the universe, and not me.

Thank you for your continued commitment to the Gospel work we're called to do together.

From the ELCA - Rocky Mountain Synod

Building on the Spirit's work among us

Naming what we get to do together as Christ's Church here in the ELCA Rocky Mountain Synod is what our strategic planning process is all about. In 2016, your Synod Council approved our first three year plan, with four major areas of emphasis and numerous goals and objectives related to each. In the Strategic Plan 2.0 Summary, you'll see a sampling of the ministry and witness we have accomplished together during this period of time. It's exciting to see how the Spirit has been at work among us!

Our Strategic Plan 2.0 will continue the momentum of our shared ministry as the ELCA Rocky Mountain Synod by expanding our focus to five key areas for the next three years. Claiming Our Gifts - Teach, proclaim and share the significance of our ELCA way of being part of Christ's Church with a clear and contagious vision from abundance.

- Connecting in Ministry and Witness - Foster a Spirit of active collaboration and intentional connection across our Synod
- Equipping All Leaders - Build healthy and vibrant faith communities by equipping lay leaders, pastors, and deacons for excellence in leadership
- Accompanying One another into God's Future - Seek and promote new ways of being Christ's Church together in the world
- Growing in Generosity - Strengthen our financial capacity for ministry and witness relying on a spirituality of generosity and abundance

Our commitment to Claiming Our Gifts has intentionally been moved to the center, recognizing that our ELCA identity within Christ's Church is foundational, informing and connecting everything else we do together. Living from our distinctive gifts, we then seek to proclaim and embody God's unconditional love for the sake of the world.

Yours in Faith,
Bishop Jim Gonia
Vice President Earline Bohling

In the Spotlight

Ruth Roehrman

I joined Holy Love last January, transferring from Parkview Congregational United Church of Christ (UCC). Forest Park, Illinois (a southwest suburb of Chicago).

I graduated from Concordia Teachers College (now University) in 1965, and received a "call" to Lutheran High School here in Denver. I taught English and Girls' Physical Education for 4 years and then moved to Boulder to complete a Masters Degree.

I married Larry in 1970 and continued teaching until 1973 when our son, Ryan, was born. We divorced in 1979, and I returned to work, teaching Adult ESL classes through the Aurora Public School System.

I entered Civil Service in 1981 at the Defense Finance and Accounting Service on Lowry Air Force Base and spent the next 20 years there...holding several positions. My favorite was a Specialist in the Learning Center. I retired in 2001.

My son Ryan recently turned 45. He lives in Parish NY and works at the Exelon Nuclear Plant on Lake Ontario. I have 3 "furry" grandchildren: Buster, the Bengal; Morris, the Tom; and Charlie, the lovable Labradoodle!!

I joined Holy Love (after visiting other ELCA churches) because I wanted to return to my "Lutheran" roots. I really enjoy the Worship, especially the Liturgy.

AURORA

THE NIGHT

Aurora Warms the Night is seeking volunteers to help on Shower Trailer nights (Monday and Friday evenings at 1544 Elmira St. parking lot in Aurora, Wednesday evenings at St. Mark's at 111 E Del Mar Cir, Aurora, CO 80011). Help is needed from 5:45 to 8:45 pm. Meals are needed for Monday evenings as well.

They are also running short on certain hygiene supplies such as men's and women's new underwear, men's deodorant, and bras.

Our Food Pantry Always Needs Donations

We alternate delivering accumulated donations once a month to food distribution points at either Aurora Interfaith or Peace with Christ Lutheran Church. Therefore, the pantry can be full one day and empty the next. Let's keep it filled so those in need can have a meal.

When shopping or donating, please consider protein rich foods such as canned tuna, salmon, chicken and beef, peanut or almond butter and nuts. Other excellent items to donate include canned fruits and vegetables, beans, cereal, oatmeal, pasta and sauces. Thanks!

Lutheran Family Services

The refugee program has had a good start to the year, and we hope to welcome even more refugees this coming year with your help! We are low on bath towels, pillows, twin-sized bedding (sheet sets and comforters), and cookware (pots and pans). Can you help give a warm welcome to a new refugee family by donating new or gently used items?

If so, contact Jaime at jaime.blanchard@lfsrm.org or 303-217-5181.

7 New Year's Resolutions for Developing Christian Habits

(Excerpt from <https://allsaintspalatine.org/7-new-years-resolutions-for-developing-christian-habits>)

Attend Church Regularly - Attending church regularly is a resolution that many people make, and with good reason. No matter your church-going background, it's a worthy goal. Worship services are opportunities for learning and reflection. They can provide periods of stability and rejuvenation in a hectic world—and provide a powerful community network.

Commit to reading the Bible...all of it - Regular reading of the Bible helps us better understand ourselves, our world, and our relationship to God and others. While the concept of reading the entire Bible might seem daunting, it can be done.

Memorize scripture - Memorization is a way to engage with scripture on a deep level. Choose verses that have special meaning to you, or relate to areas where you are striving for self-improvement.

Join a Bible Study- Encountering scripture with others in a mutual quest for meaning can expand your understanding with new viewpoints and illuminating discussion. Quite often a Bible study turns into deeper relationships with one another which is helpful when life happens.

Keep a Prayer Journal -A prayer journal requires you to sharpen your thoughts, desires, and feelings, to look for God's actions in the world around you, and to honestly evaluate your own actions—as you do, you'll be able to see your faith developing and deepening over time

Volunteer Locally - Christians are called to work toward building a better world in the here and now. Choose a local cause that's important to you and get involved! (Your church is a great place to start.)

Go on a Mission Trip -Mission trips, be they far or near, are powerful ways to see the world with new eyes, and to see God in action.

BECAUSE OF YOU

by Roger Collins, Treasurer

Holy Love has joyfully been in operation for well over 45 years as we look forward to celebrating the next 45 years. Your light of giving time, talent and treasures has shone a greater meaning to our Christian faith by having emphasized the importance of you and our church. We could not have nor can we continue to celebrate the next 45 years without you. THANK YOU for your kind involvement and dedication to our church-Holy Love.

As I sat in our last “congregational church meeting”, I couldn’t help think of the following song, “Wake Me Up,” not because I was tired, but because I realized the importance of understanding what is important for our future. Here are the similar words of the song sung by Tim Bergling.

“Feeling my way through the darkness, guided by a beating heart, I can’t tell where the journey will end, but I know where to start. They tell me I’m too old to understand, they say I’m caught up in a dream. Well, life will continue to pass me by if I don’t open up my eyes.

So wake me up when it’s all over, when I’m more wiser and still older. All this time I was finding myself, and I didn’t know I was lost.

I tried carrying the weight of the world, but I only have two hands. Hope I get the chance to travel the world, but I don’t have any plans. Wish that I could stay forever, not afraid to close my eyes. Life’s a game made for everyone and love is a prize.

So wake me up when it’s all over, when I’m wiser and still older. All this time I was finding myself, and I didn’t know I was lost.”

We try to understand who we are, but sometimes feel that maybe we are lost. We try to do everything, plan everything, and do what we may feel is right, which I believe is similar to our faith. But sometimes we must realize what we want in life and what will help guide us. We must remember, God will help us by guiding us through our church and life’s journey, keeping us by allowing us from going blind in the sometimes darkness. He helps us by letting us do what we want and need to do, while still keeping us going in the right directions. Remember, being a part of our church can let us be the best we can be if we allow it, and allow us to continue following the way of the Lord.

In the upcoming years we have some wonderful opportunities and challenges to continue our strength and sharing the love of our faith as we continue to support Holy Love. In every way possible, we should spend the time telling a full and truthful experience of our faith in God by inspiring and sharing with others and ourselves the importance of OUR church-Holy Love.

What are the 12 days of Christmas?

By Cory Driver December 27, 2019 - Living Lutheran

Christmas, according to the liturgical calendar, isn't just a day, but a season. Many Christians know the song "The Twelve Days of Christmas" or recall that Shakespeare's Twelfth Night is about the last night of Christmas. But what defines the Christmas season?

The 12 days of Christmas are a reversal of the season of Advent. Traditionally, Christians have fasted during Advent as we await the celebration of the birth of our Savior. The period from Christmas Day to the day before Epiphany (the celebration of the magi visiting Jesus, the baptism of Jesus and the beginning of his earthly ministry) is a period of daily feasting. This is surprising, given the reason for celebrating several of the days.

The first day of Christmas, the Feast of the Nativity, is obvious enough as a reason to celebrate. The Messiah has been born into the world! The next day, however, is the feast of St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, who was killed under the authority of Saul of Tarsus/Paul (Acts 8:1). The emotional whiplash of celebrating the birth of the Savior and then the next day celebrating the life and martyrdom of the first person to die for Christ is stunning. However, tradition calls for a joyful feast to celebrate the faithfulness of Stephen, even unto death.

These 12 days help Christians remember that the life of faith is full of challenges and hardships but also contains plenty of reasons to celebrate as we remember the heroes and heroines of the church, and most importantly, our Lord and Savior.

The next day, the third of the 12, celebrates the life of St. John the Apostle. He was, traditionally, the only disciple who wasn't martyred. Tradition holds that John took care of Mary, the mother of Jesus, made disciples, grew old and finally died a natural death in Ephesus.

The fourth day of Christmas is the most shocking. The Feast of the Holy Innocents commemorates the death of all boys in Bethlehem, aged 2 and under, at the hands of Herod the Great's soldiers (Matthew 2:16-18). Again, we feel the emotional rollercoaster, as we're reminded that the Christian life isn't simply one of sweetness and joy, but also of pain, hardship and injustice. Nevertheless, the fourth day of Christmas is the Feast of the Holy Innocents, rather than a fast, because we celebrate the One who has conquered sin and death and doesn't surrender these precious little ones, or any others, to the grave forever.

The following days celebrate Archbishop of Canterbury Thomas Becket's resistance to injustice; the holy family; Pope Sylvester, who resisted the Donatist and Arian controversies (in many Germanic-speaking countries, New Year's Eve is still called "Sylvester"); the circumcision of Jesus; St. Basil the Great and St. Gregory Nazianzen, who defended the doctrine of the Trinity; Jesus' presentation and naming in the Jerusalem temple; the hermitage of St. Simon on the pillar; and even two American saints: Elizabeth Ann Seton and John Neumann.

These 12 days help Christians remember that the life of faith is full of challenges and hardships but also contains plenty of reasons to celebrate as we remember the heroes and heroines of the church, and most importantly, our Lord and Savior.

MISSION BELL

Well, it has happened...we have finished yet another full decade and jumping right into another. Whew! A lot of things have happened here over the course of these past 10 years; however, let's focus on the past month.

So every class has been busy learning new letters, practicing numbers, making special Christmas gifts and cards, and of course preparing for the annual Christmas Worship Programs.

Our annual PTO Santa Shop was yet another HUGE success this year. We were so blessed to have such a response from parents who helped make it so much fun for the children. From set-up on Tuesday afternoon to packing up Friday morning, everything went totally smooth each day. Thank you to our families for all the monetary donations, wrapping supplies, and the variety of gifts all donated. Kudos to everyone for such a great time for our children!

December School News By Mary Stephenson, Director

You know we can't just have fun every day here because there has to be that part called learning—you know, workbooks involving numbers, letters and of course some homework. The children have enjoyed hearing stories all about Jesus' birth, singing special songs, and of course making fun Christmas crafts.

We celebrated worship with Pastor Matthew again and heard another great story. When he walked into the sanctuary, he acted a bit confused because there were children's chairs set up for program practices and a Christmas tree in the corner of the church. He finally got the message we were preparing for the programs! Then he told the story about his most favorite Christmas present he got as a child—a new bicycle! He found it hidden behind the tree. Pastor Matthew reminded us all the best gift ever is the birth of Jesus, God's special gift to us. Thank you Pastor Matthew for your message, enthusiasm, and time with us.

Did you notice all the red and green decorations all around the school and in the classrooms? The bulletin board Christmas decorations all were different but filled with the Christmas message and joy.

Every class held their own Christmas party and each room was filled with lots of excitement and happiness (including noise!) Many, many thanks to all those parents who helped with the individual parties and to all who donated requested items.

MISSION BELL

And then we held our annual Christmas Worship Programs—four of them in all. I want to send a very BIG thank you to Pam Engel for playing the piano, Pastor Matthew for prayer and music accompaniment, and to Mrs. Meacham for playing the flute during caroling time. The month was full of learning new songs and many days of practices. The day of programs went smoothly, and the children were excited to perform. It may be the same program every year, but each year some little something is different. What better way to celebrate the Christmas season but through the voices of children singing praises to God. And of course we had a Christmas celebration reception following each program. Thank you to all who brought goodies for the receptions.

The staff enjoyed a delicious lunch from PTO and parents on our workday, December 20th. Thank you for always thinking of us with goodies and meals. You are all greatly appreciated!

Looking ahead to January will find our Preschool/Pre-Kindergarten staff preparing for Parent Conferences to be held the end of the month. Check with your child's Teacher to see if help is needed during the assessment time.

Word was received very quickly that Lord of the Hills Preschool was closing effective December 19th. We have had numerous calls regarding space availability and have been able to place many of their children with us at Holy Love Preschool. We look forward to welcoming not only LOH children in January, but also several who are scheduled to start at the same time. We are excited to be adding new children and welcoming new families.

Can you believe we are entering a brand new decade? God gives us 365 days every year to celebrate and share with others. I hope as this year ends and the new one begins, you take time to reflect, rejoice and renew the old and the new.

HAPPY NEW YEAR 2020!

The 13th Noel

From practice to wardrobe to performance, members of Holy Love put on a spectacular Christmas Program on December 15th. The 13th Noel, was an original play written and directed by Laura Flynn.

The play was set in the year 12 AD and was centered on a birthday party that Mary was hosting for Jesus. The cast played to a full house and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the production.

Holy Love hosted 4 beautiful Candlelight Services on Christmas Eve. We hope you were able to attend.
