

Organizational LEADERS

Prioritize Safety

Threat Vulnerability Assessment

- Thorough evaluation of your facility's security posture and vulnerabilities.

SOP Development

- Formal Security Standard Operating Procedures specific to your organization.

Red Team Validations

- Threat simulations to objectively validate your security protocols.

Safety Team Training

- Develop repeatable skills for responding to unique threats and emergencies.

Security Awareness in Foreign Environments (SAFE)

- Adapted to region specific threats. Designed to prepare your team for overseas travel and challenge their resilience in unfamiliar conditions. Multiple modules with an immersive realistic scenario.

Can You?

Can your team respond to external threats and chaos under pressure, while staying focused?

Can your team spot internal vulnerabilities, like those born of political hyperbole or mental and emotional angst, and proactively mitigate them?

At OSS, we deliver tailored security education and prevention services for diverse organizations. Our offerings include comprehensive facility vulnerability and security assessments, personalized team training, active threat and emergency response procedures, and standard operating procedure (SOP) development to build organizational and personal resilience.

Why Invest?

Whether you lead a large corporation, small business, non-profit, school, or house of worship, our programs provide key insights to strengthen security by stressing preparedness and prevention. You will build a stronger grasp of team capabilities and resolve through education and practical, realistic training.

Leaders who invest in the safety and security of their people and assets gain far more than documents and procedures, they gain formalized excellence, sharply reduced liability, and peace of mind with the total confidence that their organization will respond appropriately to any emergency as one cohesive team with clear purpose. The results provide enduring value.

Value?

Security awareness protects people, assets, and operations. It cultivates preparedness, reduces risks, and supports a safer environment, and by extension, safer individuals. Security awareness influences all facets of success and shapes procedures that provide clear direction and purpose for your team.

All services are modular and may be scheduled as needed. From the short and concise Security Considerations class to the full SAFE Module 2 course with an immersive 36-hour scenario, you will gain tangible and intangible benefits.
