

Security Awareness in Foreign Environments (SAFE)

Live your values...but live!

Prevention Through Preparation

Do you want to prepare your team for the unknown?

Do you want to challenge your team under stress?

Does your organization have interests or missions all around the world? In third-world nations? This course is based on U.S. Special Operations S.E.R.E. (Survival, Evasion, Resistance, Escape) doctrine and adapted to the threats confronting today's international missionaries and travelers. Don't leave again thinking you are prepared; know you are prepared!

What?

MODULE 1: Classroom or VTC. 8-12 hours. Academics covering: Travel Preparation, Area Assessment, Communications, Cultural Awareness, Situational Awareness, Survival Mind-Set, Predator Mindset, Break Contact, Analysis of Past Events, Analysis of Current Threats. Multiple detailed sub-modules available.

MODULE 2: Classroom and Practical Exercise. 36 hours. In depth academics and a realistic, immersive scenario. Employ contingency plans, live the stages of captivity, discover personal limits, experience group dynamics under pressure, all while enduring external stressors.

Are you prepared? Are you sure? Can you SURVIVE?

Why?

The SAFE program equips Christian missionaries and Western travelers with a practical understanding of global threats and high-risk hotspots while teaching doctrine-based, proven techniques to move safely, spot and avoid threats, and survive in hostile environments. Become familiar with the distinct types of captors, their tactics, and motivations. Gain an understanding of the predator mindset and the psychology of violence in captivity. Gain critical insight into the emotional and psychological tolls involved. Through focused training, you will develop sharp situational awareness, personal resilience, and unbreakable team dynamics. And finally, you will discover functional resources for hostage survivor recovery.
