RTA Kids Uniform Guidelines

At RTA Kids, our uniform policy is designed to balance practical training needs, professional standards, and a strong sense of community and belonging. While we encourage students to feel part of the RTA Kids family through our branded uniform, we are mindful of flexibility for parents and guardians.

Compulsory Uniform Items

Saturday & Midweek Classes

For all Saturday and midweek classes, students are required to wear an RTA Kids t-shirt.

- Parents may choose to personalise the t-shirt with the student's name on the back (optional).

Infants Classes

For Infants classes, the designated class attire is compulsory and must be worn each week.

Ballet & Tap Classes

For all Ballet and Tap classes, students must wear the designated uniform and footwear specific to that discipline.

Acting & Musical Theatre (Saturday Classes)

For Saturday Acting and Musical Theatre classes, full branded uniform is not compulsory.

However, students must:

- Wear all black clothing suitable for movement
- Wear an RTA Kids t-shirt
- Wear the correct footwear: black slip-on jazz shoes (see image provided)

Branded uniform items are available should parents or guardians wish to use them, but these are optional for these classes.

Our Approach

We strongly value the sense of identity, pride and togetherness that comes from wearing RTA Kids uniform. It helps students feel part of a wider community and supports a focused, professional training environment.

That said, please note that it is not compulsory for all items to be branded.

For many classes, students may simply wear all black clothing paired with an RTA Kids t-shirt, in line with the guidelines above.
