Local Showdowns: New Friends, Great Weather, and More Soccer

Volo Frenzy- Two Local Tournaments

AFC proudly participated in two local soccer tournaments recently, demonstrating both skill and community spirit. In February, we had the honor of partnering with our sister club, Lipsticks Lovers, to represent the LGBTQIA+ community. This collaboration allowed us to field two teams, and together, we showcased strong teamwork, positive energy, and competitive spirit.

In March, AFC added new faces to the squad, sending one team to compete in the local tournament. The weather was perfect, and our team enjoyed playing under the sunshine, bringing fresh energy and excitement to the competition. The tournament not only offered a chance to play in beautiful weather but also provided an enjoyable environment for players to connect, have fun, and make lasting memories.

These tournaments were a great way for AFC to provide opportunities for players to meet new people, develop their soccer skills, and build new friendships. Our participation continues to emphasize the importance of "Community Growth", "Skill Set Development, and, most importantly, "Soccer for All."

AFCTC TOURNAMENT SEASON: PRIORITIZING PRIDE ON THE PITCH & FOLSOM WEEKEND

AFCTC is excited to begin planning for the upcoming tournament season and is shifting its focus on sending AFC team(s) to Pride on the Pitch and Folsom Weekend. With multiple tournaments on the calendar, we have decided to prioritize these two key events to ensure the best experience and preparation.

This doesn't mean you can't participate in friendlies or other tournaments as a free agent. AFCTC will continue to support players where possible. If you're interested in participating in one or both of these tournaments, please take a moment to fill out the form. This is not a commitment—just a way for us to gauge interest and plan accordingly.

Once we have a better understanding of the interest, we will organize teams and send out another form closer to the tournament dates to confirm the level at which you'd like to compete.
