

CITY CENTRE TRAIL

ACTIVE STAIR PROJECT

CONCEPT

The City Centre Trail staircase brings the benefits of an outdoor nature trail to an office setting. As the user enters the nature trail, they can follow red trail markers all the way to the mountaintop. As each level increases, the view also climbs altitude, creating the illusion of hiking up a mountain. In addition, the user can follow the trail map and the "you are here" markers as they trek to the top. The concept of nature and trails inspires us to become more mobile and use the staircase facility. With the added touch of the live plant wall, the feeling solidifies and becomes more real.
