

DAMIAN J. ARGUELLO
Founder & Principal
Attorney

February 6, 2020

Damian J. Arguello is the founder and Principal Attorney of Colorado Insurance Law Center, a private law firm providing expert guidance for insurance policyholders. Damian counsels businesses, individuals, and other attorneys and provides expert witness services in insurance matters. Damian is also an adjunct professor of insurance law at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law. Damian writes and speaks frequently on insurance and risk management matters.

Damian has worked in and around the insurance industry since 1986. Before law school, Damian was the claims manager for a top-20 insurance brokerage and a multi-line claims adjuster licensed in several states, where he helped a major insurance company reengineer its claims-handling processes.

Before founding Colorado Insurance Law Center, Damian was a partner at venerable Colorado law firm Davis Graham & Stubbs and of counsel at insurance recovery law firm Levin Sitcoff.

Damian earned his JD from the University of Denver Sturm College of Law where he was a Chancellor's Scholar, made Law Review, and earned five Academic Achievement Awards. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Denver Daniels College of Business.

Damian is a vice chair of the Insurance Coverage Litigation Committee of the ABA's Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section, and an active member of the Colorado Bar Association Insurance Law Committee and several insurance-focused professional associations.

Damian's current community involvement focuses on encouraging the education of students of color. He is a board member of the Denver Urban Debate League and the Colorado Hispanic Bar Association Foundation and a mentor in the Law School Yes We Can Colorado Program.