Many customers order DVDs and request 'digital files' or USB jump drives/flash drives. A digital file' is something we can transfer to a USB jump drive or hard drive you provide or we can provide at cost.

Customers may do this because they want the physical file on their computer to edit, share (via WeTransfer, Dropbox, etc) or upload to a platform such as YouTube. Once uploaded to a platform, you can email links of that content to friends/family to enjoy on any device, anywhere in the world, anytime.

NOTE: If we transfer to a "drive", it must be new and free of any other content. All digital files are compatible with PC and MAC computers.

All DVDs will play on your computer as well as DVD players

We can also upload your order to our online platform [or yours] with password protection or set it to "unlisted" so that only you and anyone you choose can view it online without having to download the large files.
