A little more about us:

Wurtsboro Art Alliance was organized at the initiative of John Neilson in the spring of 2005. We are a 501(c)(3) non-profit dedicated to encouraging and promoting the Arts, as well as our member artists, within the Town of Mamakating and surrounding areas.

Thanks to the generosity of both the Town of Mamakating and Village of Wurtsboro, we acquired our gallery space at 73 Sullivan Street, named "The John Neilson Gallery". It's here where we work together to provide the public with a dynamic and versatile presentation - and appreciation - of the Arts!

Since our founding, WAA has grown exponentially from its original six members to over forty today! All members have the privilege of participating in monthly themed exhibitions, which the public is invited to view at our gallery.

In addition, throughout the year we offer free and paid classes for the community, conducted by our talented members, in many creative disciplines. Some of our classes are made available with grant money awarded by the Delaware Valley Art Alliance (DVAA) while others are conducted internally through WAA.

Our group and the gallery operate March through December of each year and we're always welcoming new members!

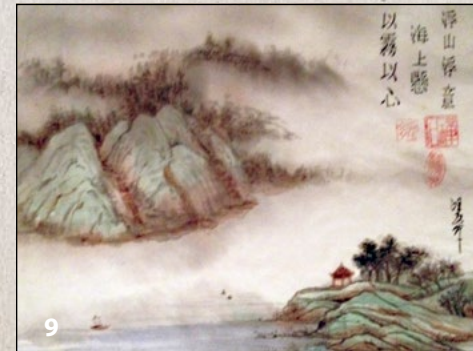

We invite you to visit us at the gallery every Saturday and Sunday, or stop by a monthly General Membership Meeting if you're interested in joining!
